Stretton Choral Society

presents

Noah, Shakespeare, and All That Jazz

Soloist

Mark Horner, Baritone

Conductor

Michael Turner

Accompanists

Sally Oak, Keyboard Elizabeth Jones, Double Bass Oliver James, Percussion

Sunday 12th May 2024 7.30 pm Silvester Horne Institute

PROGRAMME

Songs and Sonnets

Music by George Shearing, words by William Shakespeare

1	Live with me and be my love	from Sonnets to Sundry Notes of Music
2	When daffodils begin to peer	The Winter's Tale, act 4, scene 2
3	It was a lover and his lass	As You Like It, act 5, scene 3
4	Spring	Love's Labour's Lost, act 5, scene 2
5	Who is Silvia?	Two Gentlemen of Verona, act 4, scene 2
6	Fie on sinful fantasy	The Merry Wives of Windsor, act 5 scene 2
7	Hey, ho, the wind and the rain	Twelfth Night, act 5, scene 2

Fear No More the Heat o'the Sun

Music by Gerald Finzi, words by William Shakespeare

Cymbeline, act 4 scene 2

Three Shakespeare Songs

Music by Colin Baines, words by William Shakespeare

1	O mistress mine	Twelfth Night, act 2, scene 3
2	Pardon, goddess of the night	Much Ado About Nothing, act 5, scene 3
3	Blow. blow. thou winter wind	As You Like It. act 2. scene 7

INTERVAL

Please remain seated until the choir and instrumentalists have left the hall.

Refreshments will be available for sale at the side of the hall.

A bell will be rung at the end of the interval.

The Hippopotamus

Michael Flanders and Donald Swann

Chorus: Mud, mud, glorious mud,

Nothing quite like it for cooling the blood. So follow me, follow, down to the hollow, And there let us wallow in glorious mud.

Captain Noah and His Floating Zoo

Michael Flanders and Joseph Horovitz

Thanks to:

Bridgnorth Male Voice Choir for the loan of the keyboard.

Colin Baines for giving us free use of his music.

Shrewsbury Performing Arts Library for the loan of music used in this concert.

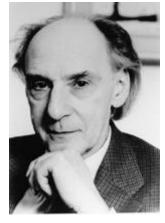

Church Stretton Library
Co-op Foodstore
Stretton Focus
PCB Solicitors
Vine & Co

The helpers and choir members who donate and assist with refreshments.

Musical Notes

Our Music Director, Michael Turner, shares some thoughts about tonight's programme.

When creating programmes for any concert, I like to think that some sort of logic goes into their creation. Christmas concerts are great as, inevitably, Christmas is the theme that one can work to! Sometimes it is the vocal or instrumental forces used in one piece that drives the decision to include another (the Brahms German Requiem and Stravinsky's Symphony of Psalms is a common pairing), or it might be that two composers are intimately associated with each other (for example, Holst and Vaughan Williams were great friends).

Joseph Horovitz

So, for this concert, I started with Michael Flanders and Joseph Horovitz's Captain Noah and his Floating Zoo. I first came across this piece as an 'O' level set work (all those years ago!), when we performed it alongside Horovitz's other oratorio, of Horrortorio. written for one Gerard Hoffnung's extraordinary concerts of the late 1950s. Captain Noah's jazzbased style offers a splendid contrast to the more traditional oratorios and similar that form the backbone of the choral repertoire. The piece takes us through the Noah's Ark story, with lots of exchanges between the baritone soloist (who variously plays God and Noah) and the chorus, which comments on the action.

Having decided on Captain Noah, the jazzy influence led me to George Shearing's Songs and Sonnets, settings of texts by William Shakespeare. Shearing, most noted as a jazz pianist, sets seven texts. While his jazz background is obvious in a number of the songs, Shearing's settings of When Daffodils Begin to Peer and Who is Sylvia? seem to be influenced as much by the style of the Victorian parlour song.

George Shearing

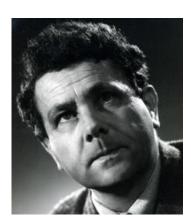

Captain Noah and the Songs and Sonnets do not add up to a complete concert. However, I now had three themes to follow – Shakespeare, animals, and jazz – to help me build the rest of the programme.

Colin Baines

Thinking about Shakespeare and jazz, I turned to the numerous Shakespeare settings of my friend, and composer, Colin Baines. Among a multitude of musical posts, for over 50 years, Colin has been Music Director of a youth drama festival, held in St David's each summer, and he must have composed over one hundred and fifty Shakespeare settings. Luckily for me, some are in a jazz style, so I chose two, with a third in a more sombre mood, to provide some contrast.

Wanting to showcase the voice of our Baritone soloist, I've chosen two contrasting pieces that still tie into our themes and complete our programme. English composer Gerald Finzi's set of six Shakespeare songs, Let Us Garlands Bring, includes a dark and exquisite setting of Fear No More the Heat of the Sun from Cymbeline, a perfect foil to "all that jazz".

Gerald Finzi

Michael Flanders and Donald Swann

Lastly, acknowledging Michael Flanders' provision of the lyrics for Captain Noah, our animal theme drew me to Flanders' writing partnership with Donald Swann and the final choice of piece to complete our programme, The Hippopotamus.

I hope that you enjoy our programme for this evening.

SOLOIST: Mark Horner, Baritone

Originally from Salisbury, Mark Horner moved from Norfolk to Shropshire in 2021. Before spending the previous 12 years in "bootiful" Norfolk, where he regularly depped in the choir of Norwich Cathedral, he sang as a lay vicar choral in the choir of Lichfield Cathedral for 24 years. He combined this with a number of teaching posts in the West Midlands, including Head of Music at Bishop Vesey's Grammar School in Sutton Coldfield. Since leaving the teaching profession in 2017 he has performed regularly with "Opera Anywhere" (who will perform locally this season including "The Pirates of Penzance" at Concord College, Acton Burnell on the 10th August). Roles include Sarastro (Magic Flute), Belthazzar (Amahl and the Night Visitors), Dick Deadeye (HMS Pinafore), Sergeant of Police (Pirates of Penzance), and Colonel Calverley (Patience). He spends his time away from the stage restoring his 17th century cottage and fishing the River Severn.

The culmination of the Noah's Flood story in Genesis chapter 9

According to the King James version of the Bible:

"And the bow shall be in the cloud... This is the token of the covenant I have established... Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth."

According to Michael Flanders and Joseph Horovitz:

"You'll see the rainbow in the sky, you'll know God's words are true; go forth! Increase! And multiply! By two by

MUSIC DIRECTOR: Michael Turner

From Birmingham, Michael Turner studied violin and viola, before settling on percussion as his main instrumental study. As a singer, he has been a member of the CBSO Chorus, along with a number of other choirs across the Midlands.

Michael has attended conducting courses with John Carewe and George Hurst and studied under Hilary Davan Wetton, with whom he settled on adopting the conducting technique favoured by Sir Adrian Boult.

A music graduate of Leicester University, Michael has conducted several amateur and professional ensembles and choirs including the Birmingham Singers, Proteus Chamber Orchestra, the More Singers, the Telford Orchestra, the Marches Choir and the Phoenix Singers. He made his professional debut with the Milton Keynes City Orchestra and has also worked with the Manchester Camerata. Michael has been Music Director of the Bloomsbury Chamber Orchestra since 1996, was Music Director of the Oswestry Sinfonia from 2014 - 2020 and became Music Director of the Stretton Choral Society in September 2021. He has been an ensemble conductor for Shropshire Music Service since 2016.

Michael has composed extensively, with works including a Horn Concerto, several orchestral and choral works, instrumental music and pieces for percussion and wind ensemble. He lives in South Shropshire with his wife. They have three sons, with one boy a former Cathedral chorister.

From George Shearing's introduction to Songs and Sonnets:

"Some fifteen years ago, William Shakespeare and I brought forth a series of pieces for choir, jazz piano and bass entitled Music to Hear. Because the efforts of the Shakespeare/Shearing team seemed to be received with enthusiasm, and because we enjoyed working together so much, we thought we'd give it another go. Mr Shakespeare dug around in his trunk and came up with seven more songs and sonnets that we hadn't used yet..."

Our Christmas concert 2024

Sunday 15th December

Choruses from Handel's Messiah and other Christmas items With audience carols

Do you like the idea of singing in a choir? Perhaps you are put off because you've never had any formal choir training, or because you think all the music will be unfamiliar? Choruses from Messiah - several of which will probably already be familiar - could be the ideal opportunity to give it a try.

Although we aim for high standards when we perform, we are a very welcoming group - open to anyone, of any level of ability and experience, and definitely no auditions.

We will rehearse every Thursday at 7.30 p.m. in the United Reformed Church, High Street, Church Stretton, starting with our first rehearsal on Thursday 12 September.

New members are always very welcome. Just arrive at about 7.20 pm and introduce yourself - we will provide the score, introduce you to others singing the same vocal part and help you to learn the music. Do come and join us!

Website: strettonchoral.org.uk

Member of Making Music, the National Federation of Music Societies