This month there has been ten reported crimes of interest across the whole beat area. This compares with ten crimes reported throughout February 2018 and eight crimes reported over the same period last year.

Sgt Tony Crofts last working day was mid-March and he officially retires from the Force in a month, or so, time. Many of you will have met Sgt Crofts, or indeed spoken to him, over the ten years, or so, that he has been working from Harworth Police Station. His experience and knowledge will be missed by many who he has worked with. The replacement for Sgt Crofts, with immediate effect, is Sgt Sam Pearson.

The monthly Police report, at times, must sound very repetitive to read. However, particular crimes are very seasonal. At this time of the year, shed and outbuilding breaks are usually prevalent with lawn mowers, gardening and DIY tools, pedal cycles and other summer related items being attractive to criminals.

The advice around basic home, outbuilding and vehicle security needs to be adhered to at all times.

Over the last few months whilst patrolling the streets the local beat team has noticed several properties where the downstairs windows have been partly, or wide, open. In some cases unattended cars have also been seen with the windows still down. The team has also seen a number of pedal cycles left insecure outside shops and in front gardens.

For some criminals that is an invitation just too good to resist.

As we move into April and the prospects of better weather, please remain vigilant around all aspects of home and vehicle security. Be especially careful to lock house doors and leave windows on locks – even if you are only in the back garden.

If you do leave windows and doors open and a burglary occurs, you could receive a further nasty shock when you try to make an insurance claim. A lot of insurance companies are now reducing payments, or even refusing to pay out altogether, if doors and windows have been left open arguing that it is your own negligence that has led to the theft.

Check car windows and sun roofs are closed when you park, remembering not to leave anything inviting on display in your vehicle.

And always secure your unattended bicycle to something that is fixed to the ground, or leave it in a rear garden where it is out of view from the public highway.

As ever, the beat team will keep an eye out to look after you and your homes. The team would like to hear from any community members who would like some crime prevention advice, or even just a reassurance visit.

This month there has been ten reported incidents of anti-social behaviour across the whole beat area. This compares with two reported incident for February 2018 and four reported for the same month in 2017. The anti-social behaviour umbrella covers a wide range of incident types including hoax calls to the emergency services, found/ abandoned vehicles and wildlife/ animal issues.

It is noticeable that the number of youth related anti-social behaviour incidents reported has reduced significantly over the years. To many children today, online life is real life. NSPCC has joined forces with O2 to help parents explore and understand online life as children know it.

Some common apps used by children are –

SNAPCHAT – Minimum age is 13, in compliance with the Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA). But when you download it, Snapchat asks for your date of birth and, if your birth year tells it you’re under 13, you’re redirected to the children version, called “Snapkidz”.

INSTAGRAM – Instagram requires everyone to be at least 13 years old before they can create an account, in some jurisdictions this age limit may be higher. If your child is younger than 13 and has created an account on Instagram, you can show them how to delete their account.

FACEBOOK.

Facebook requires everyone to be at least thirteen years old before they can create an account, again in some jurisdictions this age limit may be higher. Creating an account with false information is a violation of their terms, and this includes accounts registered on behalf of someone who is under 13.

There is plenty of information and advice for parents online, particularly on the NSPCC website, and more specifically, on www.net-aware.org.uk which trawls even further into particular apps available presently.

The control room continue to receive reports from community members of sightings of suspicious persons, vehicles and activity across the beat area. These calls are important to us all and do help in keeping reported crime figures relatively low across the beat area.
