RODINGTON PARISH COUNCIL NEWSLETTER — Oct 2008

Piggeries Application	0
Barn Restoration	1	(spelt won)

Match report by Dave Johnson

Remember our last issue where we raised the question why the restoration of a redundant eye-sore of a building was thrown out. In one sentence it was rejected as it was outside prescribed development areas and did not have a social affordable build content. Since when did restoration of one small building constitute a development and how does one divide one dwelling into private and social residence, one asks.

The article posed the question; have the planners planned in decay and zero improvement in areas outside the agreed development villages? We have to return to the question following the rejection of a barn conversion application close to the Parish which was subsequently overturned on appeal. This throws considerable question mark on the validity of the Piggeries rejection

The Planning Department are currently working to a very narrow focused interpretation of their Core Strategy Document and the subsequent LDF (Local Development Framework) which covers all aspects of Borough development to 2016.

Key quotations from Strategic Housing Land Availability Assessment and Core Strategy Documents in regards housings can be itemised thus;

T & W required to develop 26,500 homes in the plan period to 2026. The dwelling completion rates set out by the RSS require a total of:

6,625 homes to be completed in 2006 to 2011.

6,625 homes to be completed in 2011 to 2016.

6,625 homes to be completed in 2016 to 2021.

Core Strategy (adopted in November 2007, effective from 2nd December 2007)

The Core Strategy DPD addresses the key spatial development issues for the Borough and provides a robust strategic planning policy framework that gives a clear understanding of how the Borough will develop physically over the 10 years to 2016. We have had regard in this study to the following relevant core strategy policies:

Conversion of commercial premises. In some parts of the country, there is a significant supply of commercial and industrial buildings that may not necessarily meet the requirements of modern business practices.

These may include former mills, breweries, warehouses and similar buildings. Often these buildings are attractive and contribute to local environmental character. Some of these lend themselves to conversion for residential use and can produce a significant additional source of housing supply. In Telford, trend based information shows that there has been a limited number of conversions of commercial buildings and it is assumed this trend will continue.

POLICY CS 7

Rural Area

Development within the rural area will be limited to that necessary to meet the needs of the area. It will be focussed on the settlements of High Ercall, Tibberton and Waters Upton.

New housing development will be expected to deliver affordable housing to the level of 40% of all such development. Outside of these settlements development will be limited and within the open countryside will be strictly controlled.

Amongst Council members there is genuine concern that the interpretation of the LDF plan is far too rigid but officers of the Council seem to have convinced them that the plan is the plan full stop.

Clearly the successful appeal demonstrated there is another view. Perhaps commonsense was applied the Strategic Housing Land Availability Assessment document says clearly there are opportunities to convert redundant commercial buildings to housing. In fact T & W purchased such buildings at Wapvehshall as part of the Canal restoration and no doubt that this is an application that will pass.

Does an empty piggery not qualify as redundant commercial building?

Policy CS 7 says development will be in the three villages however the key word is "development" as a plural and reinforced by the requirement of 40% social content. So the doctrine does not cover the building of a single dwelling. Furthermore the policy CS 7 says development outside these settlements will be "strictly controlled".

I think 99% of the rural community says thank goodness but strict control implies careful, sensible consideration and where appropriate refusal or acceptance of an application.

If the Policy was for zero building of single dwellings it would say so.

I was not party to the appeal but suspect the Inspector read the LDF and Core Strategy with an open mind. The Parish Council felt the original application was to the benefit not only of the applicant but the community as well.

It considered the refusal was ill conceived particularly given planning officials asked the applicant to undertake environmental reports to support the application probably costing between £500-£900. To then reject the application on rules the Planning Dept. played a major role in formulating forgive the phrase "was not really cricket".

A nice close to this business would be an invitation from T & W for the applicant to re-apply for objective review by the Plans board. However the owners have decided not to wait for a miracle and have lodged an appeal. We wish them luck.

Rodington & Recycling

You have probably noticed we now have a plastic recycling bank situated alongside the existing banks in the Village hall car park. T & W ask users where possible to swill out empty containers. Saves any odours while you store them prior taking them to the bank. Before transporting to the bank a good squeeze underfoot with swift replacement of top will leave the container as small as possible.

Can you also use the paper bank provided as it is sold to recyclers. The income is shared between the village hall and the Church so a little effort can benefit the whole community directly and well as the less tangible benefit to the planet.

Recycling the paper locally will leave you more room in your roadside collection box for other materials.

Newspapers, magazines, junk mail and envelopes all accepted. As the jingle says "every little helps"
