If the Jack is delivered less than 23m, goes into ditch or out of rink, then the Jack is passed to the opposition. The Jack is not centred but played as it lies even if it is less than 2m from the ditch. The original deliverer of the Jack plays the first wood. If the Jack is knocked by a wood into the next rink, onto the bank or rebounds to less than 21m from the mat then the end is dead and will be replayed in the same direction (unless both players agree otherwise). The player who won the last scoring end delivers the Jack. If the game is tied an extra end is played.
