One needs to be very careful before 1753 when considering England alone
 Dates before 1750 follow the Julian calendar and every century is a leap year.
 1751 is a one-off bridging short year to align the new year to 1st January
 The Gregorian Calendar was adopted in 1752 and 11 days were missed out.
 Wednesday 2nd September is followed by Thursday 14th September
 Many websites will confuse and quote dates prior to 1752 as if still Gregorian
