Importance of Reporting

Please can it be circulated that all suspicious activity & incidents are reported to the police.

The highlighted section at the top of this report provides the various ways this can be done.

I appreciate that people think that they don't want to "bother" the police or "nothing will be done anyway". However, as I mentioned when speaking to people face to face the reports enable resources to be allocated accordingly and if nothing gets reported nothing can be done.

Sometimes lines of enquiry are limited but all reports can be used to "build a picture" of activity in the area and the smallest report may lead to a crime being solved or prevented.

Withdrawal of 101 email address:

Improving the way, you contact us.

We receive thousands of digital contacts from residents and visitors every month and contact overall to Dorset Police has recently been reaching record levels.

It is important for us to use the best systems and processes to ensure emergency lines are kept open and non-emergency calls can be answered from those who are unable to contact us online.

We have been looking at ways to ensure we can meet the needs of our communities as quickly as possible as well as ensuring that members of the public are directed to the correct agency, such as the local authority, who may be best placed to deal with their request for service.

Following the launch of our new website in March, we have seen a huge increase in the quality of information captured on digital reports completed via our website, ensuring we are able to record crimes effectively and task officers and staff appropriately.

Why are we making these changes?

We are asking members of the public to use these web forms when contacting us digitally instead of sending an email to ensure we have all the relevant information we need and can respond as efficiently as possible – meaning we get you the advice, information and help you need as soon as possible.

Our non-emergency email was withdrawn from 5 June 2023 and digital contact should be made via our website. Alternatively, you can still contact us for non-emergency enquiries by calling 101.

What to do in an emergency

If a crime or incident is in progress or someone is in immediate danger, call 999 now.
