The Frome Shed

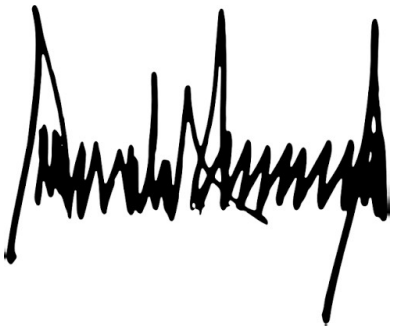

The Shed now has 3 new Trustees - Steve Gray, John Philp and Ros Reed. They join John Corfield, Pam Curtis, Fiona Deans and Steve Wallbank. Carol Didymus kindly offered to be the note taker at the Trustee's meetings.

And welcome also to Mike Clark who has volunteered to be a Duty Manager.

The next Monday book club is on Monday 7th December. The book to be discussed is Small Things Like These by Claire Keegan. There will also be a secret Santa book swap. Select a book off your bookshelf, wrap it anonymously, and drop it in Santa's sack.

The following Monday, 14th December, will be a fundraising event for the Monday Shedders' chosen charity Somerset Sight. There will be a shared buffet and raffle. This event is open to all Shedders. If you want to join in please sign up on the buffet sheet, so that we don't end up with 12 packets of crisps and 40 mince pies.
Also raffle prizes will be gratefully received on or before Monday 14th December

Can you read this signature? No? That could be because its illegible, even though it is a name you know well.
Can all Shedders please remember to sign in legibly? We need to be able to record who has attended so that a legitimate claim for Gift Aid can be made to the Government.

The Monday Shedders are making progress with the train from the children's section of Frome Library. The train was originally green as it was provided by Lloyd's Bank. Then it was pillar box red and after a public vote it's going to be blue. Once the engine is finished Frome Town Council Park Rangers will take it back to the Library and then bring a tender to the Shed for its "glow up".
