News from St. Nicholas Church

Cream Teas will continue throughout August and for the first two Sundays of September 2.00pm-5.00pm. So far this year we have had three very successful afternoons in the sunshine and welcomed friends old and new.

For those who haven't had a Tea yet, we serve a pot of tea or coffee, two scones, jam, butter and whipped cream at a very reasonable price. Do come along and join us - the teas will be served inside the church if wet.

Friends of Kent Churches Bike Ride: The Bike ride is to be held on the 14th September this year and St. Nicholas Church will be open all day. Whether you are riding, walking or just visiting, it is a good day to visit Churches as so many will be open that are normally locked.

Sylvia Close will be welcoming visitors at St. Nicholas and looking for sponsors to cover the time she will give. The money raised is sent to the Friends and we receive a cheque back for half the amount raised, which goes towards our Funds. It would be good if we could find some riders or walkers to raise money for us. We have sponsorship forms available and a list of Churches that are open - just ask Joan Davidson on 01622 850210 for a form and get sponsorship from your friends. We would be most grateful to anyone who comes forward.

The Harvest Supper will be on Saturday 28th September at 7.30pm in the Village Hall. Tickets will be available soon. More about this next month, just make a note in your diary.

Village Coffee Morning: We meet for coffee and a chat in the village hall on Wednesday 14th August from 10.30-12.00 noon. Why not come along and join us? We would be very pleased to see you. There is no charge but we are grateful for donations. The money raised will be sent to a Charity at the end of the year. Last year we sent money to a small Charity in Kenya called 'Kisumu Children'.

Morning Prayers will be said at St. John the Baptist, Harrietsham on Thursday mornings during August, at 9.30am for half an hour - this arrangement is just for the holiday season. Can you spare half an hour for this gathering?

Joan Davidson

Speedwatch Volunteers

Speedwatch in Grafty Green has become very successful, but we need volunteers to increase the teams. Training is generally done on site, takes less than an hour and is very straight forward..

Protecting Your Environment

I attended a Joint Parishes Group meeting on 22/7/13; the agenda was to be a presentation by Cllr Fran Wilson on the designation of green spaces within the Borough.

Mrs Wilson requested that all Parishes compile a list of green spaces, particularly those of Historic Interest, within their Parish with the intention of presenting these to MBC for consideration & safeguarding from future development within the forthcoming Local Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework emphasises achieving three essential elements when creating Local Plans:-
Economic, Social & Environmental. For sustainable development they should be considered together.

MBC has to find a five year land supply for housing & also designate land for Commercial use to balance this growth, but Mrs Wilson believes that the Environmental aspect may have been pushed aside. We must identify land that is inappropriate for development at this stage in order to protect our Town & Countryside for the future. These sites should be considered when making planning decisions.

So far MBC has ignored these requests. Cllr Fran Wilson is again asking that Parishes & indeed Parishioners write with their concerns to MBC & hopefully these concerns will be published as a response to the Local Plan consultations. We were assured that this is not a politically based issue, but a genuine concern for our Borough.

You will probably have seen in the local press that development is again being considered around Junction 8 (Leeds Castle) area, which will inevitably affect us & neighbouring villages. We do need housing & workplaces but now is the time to make your views known on which areas you consider acceptable. Do you feel that there are areas within your village or the surrounding countryside that you would like to protect? Please make your views known now.

If you wish to respond you may do so by email to boughtonmalherbepc@gmail.com or by contacting any of your Parish council members or direct to franwilson@maidstone.gov.uk

Replies are requested by the middle of August if possible.

The next Boughton Malherbe Parish meeting is at the Village Hall on Tuesday 27th August & you are most welcome to attend & discuss any concerns you may have.

Barbara Pearce.

News from Ulcombe Village School

Much loved, much missed, Much to celebrate

It is with great sadness that we start this article with a tribute to Mrs Lisa Arundel, who lost her battle with cancer at the end of June. Lisa truly loved village life in Ulcombe and thoroughly enjoyed taking an active part in the community. The contribution Lisa made to the school and the village was incredible and immeasurable.

The gap left will be incredible for all of us, including staff, friends and neighbours. However, this will be far more so, of course for her husband and their children, for whom Lisa remained an outstanding wife and mum. I am sure you will echo my sentiments when I write that they are all very much in our thoughts and we wish them the greatest possible comfort in their sorrow.

Time for Change

Everyone connected with the school, including family, friends and neighbours, was invited to the Leavers' Service on Tuesday 23rd July at All Saints Parish Church, when we celebrated the achievements and contributions to our school of all of the children in Year 6, and, of course, Mrs Wills. There were plenty of happy, funny and embarrassing moments to remember.

I am pleased to inform you that Mrs Tysoe will be joining the staff team to teach Barn Owls for three days each week. Mrs Boorman will be moving into Owlets Class and will be with the class full-time. The youngest class have already started to have their taster sessions as they get to know each other and become familiar with their new surroundings. We look forward to getting to know them!

Train Times

Our Model Railway Club made its way to the County Final of the KCC / Hornby Model Railway Competition. The children represented the whole of Maidstone in the Kent Final at County Hall on Saturday 13th July. We were delighted to have made it to the final and enjoyed displaying our model railway. We had imagined what our village might have been like if the railways had ever made it here.

Gardening Time

Our Gardening Club were exhibitors at the Kent County Show over the same weekend. They created miniature gardens using Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland as their theme. Well done to our avid gardeners for working hard on their creations.

Music Time

Our guitarists led a great assembly in mid-July, when they got to show off the skills and entertain us with their music. It was wonderful to hear a wide range of music played for us so well.

Friends of Ulcombe School

The FUS Summer Fayre took place on Saturday 22nd June. This year was another enormous success. There was high praise for the Fayre and welcoming atmosphere that all those who were present helped to create. What was even more amazing was that the Summer Fayre raised an astonishing £1,136.32. FUS are currently seeking to purchase a defibrillator for the school, which we hope members of the wider community might be able to use. The amount raised will cover a significant amount of the costs of this equipment, and may well, in the future, save lives, and so prove to be beyond value.

The end of year disco took place on Friday 19th July. The children put on their glad rags and dancing shoes before throwing some shapes and busting some moves. (In plain English they enjoyed dressing up and dancing!) DJ Richie did a fantastic job, as ever. This was followed by a very enjoyable and relaxing barbecue for the older children.

Phil The Bank continues to be a great success. This will be less accessible during the school holiday, so if you are intending to bring clothes down please check the gates are open first. Thank you to every single one of you who has helped by recycling old clothes, curtains, shoes, handbags and more. The gazebo has changed colour and the PE Shed has also had a facelift and some additional structural support. Our thanks go to FUS and the willing volunteers who have taken on these tasks with such eagerness, giving up their own time and energy.

We Went To See Groombridge Place

On Thursday 27th June the whole school made the trip across Kent to Groombridge Place, near Tunbridge Wells. We all had a wonderful time walking through the gardens and exploring The Enchanted Forest. The children were able to spend time in different areas, with Crusoe's World being a particular favourite. The children saw a variety of animals, including the world famous Zedonk and reindeer. They were also treated to a Birds of Prey display.

We Went To See The Wizard ...

... the wonderful Wizard of Oz. The whole school took part in our end of year production, which saw us taking on an adaptation of this classic film from 1939. The children really enjoyed getting to grips with the songs and their speaking parts and did tremendously well despite some late casting changes. The older children took the leading roles and earned rave reviews. Well done to all of the cast and choir, and all the adults in school and out, who helped the children in so many ways.

Premier Sport Survey – Fencing Comes To Ulcombe

In conjunction with Premier Sport we sent out a survey about the possibility of having a club before school. Following the responses we have decided to try holding a weekly Fencing Club. I look forward to telling you more about it as we go through Terms 1 and 2.

Still To Come

The end of term does not mean the end of work for the grown-ups in school. We have several people lined up to come and complete work in and around the school during the coming weeks. Staff will also be in school to prepare for the new academic year.

As ever, if you have any questions, or if you would like to offer your time to help in some way, please do not hesitate to get in touch with us in school. We send our very best wishes to all of our leavers for the future, whatever it might hold. To everyone we wish you a very happy summer.

Best wishes,

Mr V Hampton, Head Teacher.

Grafty Geek - Cloud Drives – Why use them?

There are numerous Cloud Drives available nowadays, Google Drive, Sky Drive, Dropbox etc. What these drives do is allow anyone to share documents without having to email them. There is a lot of space available on these Drives for free from the different Service Providers but you can also pay for additional space if you need it.

There are many benefits to using these drives, here are the top 3 reasons people are using them:

1. Gives access to others to add comments or make amendments which is a very useful collaborative tool. It saves you creating a document, sending it via email to ask people to comment and then send it back so you can update it.
2. Gives you access to your own documents from any computer that has access to the internet, which eliminates the need for you to download your important documents to discs, sticks or other medium to take to meetings etc.
3. Back-up – if you save your important documents to a Cloud Drive, they will be available from any computer connected to the internet, so if your computer crashes, your documents are available from a new or different computer.

As previously mentioned, there are many different Drives, but I am going to use Google Drive as an example as that is what I am familiar with. To get a Google Drive you need to download Google Chrome as your Internet Browser. Once installed, you will see the Google Drive menu in the header row of the Google Chrome Browser. Warning: you will need to have a Gmail email account.

Once setup it is easy to Add documents to the Drive and then "Share" those documents with people who also have access to the Google Drive. It is safe, because only people you share with will be able to see your documents. When you share documents with someone they will receive an email to let them know you have shared a document with them with a link to that document.

You can also set up a Google Drive on your computer which synchronises updates to the document as you go. If you have documents in your Google Drive on your PC it will automatically update the document so people who are sharing this document will see the latest updates.

To set up the PC Google Drive, from Google Chrome select PC Drive, this will then provide you with a step by step guide to set this up. You will then be able to move any document, or a folder into the Google Drive which will then be available to you and anyone you wish to share with from anywhere on the internet.

The other Drives have similar, just as easy to set up options, but you will need to work out which is the best one for you and the people you share with.

County Councillor Jenny Whittle report for Malherbe Monthly

On my door knocking activities at and between election times, it saddens me to see so many older people at home alone, often only having contact with carers and the odd visitor. Recently Kent County Council announced a £380K boost to battle isolation and loneliness among elderly people. The cash will be used to develop volunteer befriending services across the county to visit vulnerable older people and bring them back into the community. Befriending is already making a difference to people's lives but this money, which is part of £18million government funding to improve adult social care, will extend it to even more people.

Sandra Richards, 70, began volunteering as a befriender in 2007 and has been visiting 'Nora', who has dementia, once a week since 2009. She said: "She lives in a fairly rural area where, if you haven't got a car, you are pretty well stranded. I decided to take her out in the car because it gets her out of the four walls and it stimulates her memory. For example, she used to have a horse for many years so we visited a friend of mine with horses and she was delighted. It gave her a chance to talk about her own horse with the lady who owned them.

"I wanted to do it because it's giving something back into the community. I used to be a community nurse for years and I know how there are these forgotten people no-one seems to think much about and I wanted to help in some way. This lady is fun and makes me laugh, so we both get something out of it."

Sandra is a volunteer with charity CARM, through its Well-being At Home befriending service which aims to reduce social isolation and improve mental health, as well as help people to stay in their own homes for longer. CARM is just one of the voluntary agencies which deliver befriending services across Kent.

'Nora' said: "I'm lucky that I like people and I get on really well with Sandra. She has a yellow car like I used to have – I'm really jealous. She takes me out to the garden centre which is lovely."

Loneliness can lead to depression and poor health and befriending is an effective way to combat the effects of social isolation. Befriending aims to help people live more fulfilled lives, reduce social exclusion, increase access to community resources, information and advice, improve health and wellbeing, and to help people become more independent. More than 60 voluntary agencies have applied for year-long grants to pilot new models of befriending from next month (JULY). KCC will then use these schemes to develop a countywide befriending service in 2014.

If you would like to get involved in befriending or know of somebody who could benefit from this service, please do let me know.

In the meantime, please do contact me if you need my help or advice. KCC delivers over 300 different services to the 1.5m residents of Kent, including education, libraries, roads, social services and adult education. I can be contacted on 734897 or jenny.whittle@kent.gov.uk

New planning rules are coming! Will they mean:

Wkps Asks: Wind Power – Blessing Or Blight?

Over the last few years, we have heard much about the importance of generating renewable, greener sources of energy. The UK is legally committed to meeting 15% of its energy demand from renewable sources by 2020.

However, according to The Guardian of 1 July 2013, '..the UK is not on track to meet its 2020 European renewables targets, according to the European Renewable Energy Council (EREC).

It continues '...the EREC expects Belgium, Poland, Spain and the UK to miss their targets altogether..'

For all who live in the Weald of Kent, the most visible or obtrusive component of the drive to renewable energy is onshore wind power. But, as the following figures published in June make clear, a highly questionable technology comes at a fantastic cost:

- Every job in Britain's wind farm industry is subsidised @ £100,000 a year
- From March 2012-February 2013, the industry received £1.2 billion in subsidy, paid by a supplement on the nation's electricity bills, the Renewables Obligation.
- Even if the maximum number of jobs forecast - up to 90,000 by 2020 - is created, the effective subsidy would be £80,000 per job

- Renewable Energy Foundation, a think tank, states that wind power subsidies add about £47 a year to household energy bills
- If UK reaches its target of 15% of all energy to be supplied by renewables, the subsidy will rise to approx. £6 billion in 2020
- Landowners can receive an average of £40,000 a year for each 3 megawatt turbine installed on their land
- The Government recently undertook to give local opinion a greater say in the siting of such developments and to force energy companies to make much greater compensation payments
- Energy companies will have a system of incentives in place to persuade local people to accept these developments.

*Source: Sunday Telegraph,
16/6/2013*

Of course, none of the above addresses the fact that wind power cannot be relied upon to produce power when we need it most e.g. during a cold snap, when winds are often very light indeed. Neither does it talk about the costs of removing and disposing of the turbines when they wear out.

We all need energy and, like many, WKPS would prefer it to be clean. But is this natural desire really an excuse to inflict such an expensive and relatively unproductive technology on us all?

Grafty Gourmet

As this summer is now well under way, I thought I would do another barbecue recipe. This is a tasty, yet easy recipe for barbecued pork.

Barbecued Chinese Pork

Serve 4:-

1kg of pork neck	2 teaspoons of hisin sauce
2 star anise – crushed	2 teaspoons of grated ginger
2 tablespoons of light soy sauce	1 glove of garlic – crushed
2 tablespoons of brown sugar	2 shallots – chopped
1 ½ tablespoons of honey	Red food colouring
1 ½ tablespoons of dry sherry

1. Cut the pork into quarters length ways.
2. Combine all the remaining ingredients in a dish and add the pork.
3. Refrigerate overnight, turning the pork occasionally, to soak up the marinade.
4. Barbecue the pork until cooked through, brushing with the marinade whilst cooking.

Cakes Needed!!

There will be a Cake Stall at the Grafty Green Silly Olympics on Saturday afternoon, 31st August, the proceeds of which will go to St. Nicolas' Church.

The August Night Sky

The Sun is in the constellation of Cancer at the beginning of the month and moves into Leo at the end of the month.

New Moon occurs on Tuesday 6th August. Full Moon is on Tuesday 20th August when in the constellation of Capricornus.

Venus rises at the beginning of the month in the east at 9:0 am, sets in the west at 9:0 pm in the constellation of Leo. So it may be briefly visible just before sunset. At the end of the month it rises in the east in Virgo in mid morning and sets in the west just after 8:0 pm.

Mercury, Mars & Jupiter are all grouped tightly together for the whole month in the constellation of Gemini. As they rise roughly at sunrise and set at sunset, it will not be possible to see them this month.

Saturn rises in the east at the beginning of the month at 2:0 pm in the constellation of Virgo, and sets in the southwest at 11:0 pm near the constellations of Virgo. At the end of the month it rises at 1:0 pm, and sets in the southwest just after 10 pm. It may therefore be possible to see the planet for about two hours after sunset. Through a telescope you may also be able to see the famous rings together with many of its moons.

The famous Perseid Meteor Shower returns this month. The meteors appear to radiate from the constellation of Perseus, which is rising in the north-east in the evening, and is high in the east at dawn. The meteors are expected to peak in the middle of the month.

I thought it was time I up dated you again on the Mars Curiosity Rover. Since the launch in November 2011 and its long eight and a half month trip to a successful landing on the surface of the Red Planet in August 2012, it has revealed much about conditions on Mars.

In March 2013, for instance, computer models suggest subterranean flood plains beneath lava deposits, indicating water on the planet as recently as 500 million years ago, and in May the pebbles found in an ancient stream bed were slightly rounded, suggesting they were carried a long distance through water. In June, the surface rocks collected by Nasa's Spirit rover contained five times as much nickel as Martian meteorites found on Earth, indicating that the older surface rocks were formed in an oxygen-rich environment.

Finally, in July 2013 British scientists from Imperial College London have announced that it is the intention to plan a manned mission to Mars, featuring a spacecraft that can generate its own gravity.

Ulcombe Pre-School

General news: The pre-school has had a very busy summer term this year. In early July, we were lucky enough to have a visit from the Kent Fire Brigade, where the children were given some vital fire safety information and learned all about the job of a fire-fighter. The children's favourite part of the visit had to be a sit in the fire engine itself and an opportunity to use the fire-fighter's hose to put out a pretend fire!

We have also been on two trips this term; firstly we had our annual end of term outing to the Museum of Kent Life where the weather was extremely kind. The children enjoyed 'cuddle corner' with the animals, wandering around the old farm houses to find out what life used to be like, tractor rides and completing the 'hunt teddy' treasure hunt, so a good day all round. Our second excursion was down to Ulcombe Primary School, who kindly invited the pre-school children to watch their summer play. The children thoroughly enjoyed the show so our thanks go to all those involved.

Fundraising: The summer term has also been a busy fundraising period for the pre-school. The Friends of Ulcombe School kindly allowed us a stall at the school sports fete where we held a spinner stall and a treasurer island map game and managed to raise just over £80. The children also completed their own sponsored sports day event which involved a circular course of jumping, balancing, crawling, alongside some more classic races and a good time was had by all.

Toddler Morning: There is a toddler morning every Tuesday 9.30am- 11.30am held at the pre-school in Ulcombe Village Hall. Please bring along your little one for a play and enjoy a cup of tea and a chat yourself. We hope to see you soon!

Spaces at the Pre-School: We currently have spaces available for children over the age of 2. If your child is already 3 then pre-school is free and there is some funding available for 2 year olds. (Conditions apply please contact Helen Leat on committeeps@hotmail.com or Corinne Giles on 07940225341 for more details)

Time Out

August is the month when many of us will be going on holiday. Some will find somewhere warm to laze on the beach and swim; some will visit foreign lands and explore different cultures, cuisines and fascinating buildings from the past; others will exert themselves with new endeavours – cycling, sailing, scuba diving, mountaineering; and yet others will travel to foreign parts to meet up with families that have moved away. Then there are those who choose to stay at home and enjoy not having to work for a week or two in the comfort of their own home. Whatever the chosen activity, holidays are a time for relaxing and re-charging one's batteries.

Sadly, of course, there are those who have no opportunity of going away, even if they would like to, and one realises we do not live in an equal society. But at least, in this country, we enjoy a peace and a freedom that others, especially in the Middle East, long for in the midst of all their suffering.

Holidays are a time for reflection and re-evaluation of one's life. My last holiday, just before Christmas, was a pilgrimage to the Holy Land. There we were made very aware of the conflict between the Israelis and the Palestinians. We met with a number of leading Palestinians who told us about the terrible things that were going on: Palestinian land forcibly taken for Jewish settlements; Palestinians forbidden to build on their own land; Palestinians forbidden to connect up to electricity and water even though the settlements round them had both; homes built by Palestinian forbears snatched by the Israeli authorities and given to Jewish families; Palestinians living just outside but working in Jerusalem, having to get up at 4 am in order to get through the check-out gate, manned by armed soldiers, in time for work. We visited an Arab refugee building which housed three thousand people cramped together. The manager told us that soldiers would arrive unannounced, and arrest people - who were never seen again. The stories went on and on, and we all felt anger at the way the Palestinians were being treated.

But then, after a visit to the Holocaust Museum, we were, once more, overwhelmed by horror, and a deep sympathy for the Jews who had suffered such appalling atrocities by the Nazis before and during the Second World War.

This tempered our anger, but left us feeling that such horror should have elicited compassion for the Palestinians rather than the opposite – and we came away deeply saddened.

But our pilgrimage was an amazing experience. We visited all the places where Jesus preached, taught his disciples, and healed the sick and needy. Wonderful churches, built over the centuries, marked the sites of the Annunciation, the Nativity, the Sermon on the Mount, the Transfiguration, the Garden of Gethsemane – to name but a few. We visited the River Jordan where John the Baptist baptised Christ, we sailed on the Sea of Galilee where Jesus calmed the storm, and we walked the Via Dolorosa where Jesus walked to his Crucifixion.

At each place we visited, we had a brief act of worship – finding a corner in the church or in one of the side chapels. There were so many pilgrims from all over the world doing the same thing that it wasn't always possible to find a space in the church, so we often sat out in the garden to read the relevant Gospel passage, sing a hymn, and pray. With people from so many different nations surrounding us, with their different languages and costumes, but all doing the same thing, we felt part of a world-wide Christian family, and it was wonderful.

As we travelled by coach from Galilee to Jerusalem, it amazed me to discover what huge distances Jesus and his disciples must have travelled during his three year's mission. Israel is long and thin – a bit like the British Isles – and Galilee is in the north while Jerusalem towards the south. They didn't have public transport like we have – but did all their travelling on foot.

Jesus took time out too – time that he spent in the hills communing with his Heavenly Father. The Gospels record many times when he went off to pray – especially those times before major events – when choosing his disciples, and when facing arrest and crucifixion. The disciples asked Him to teach them to pray, and He gave them the Lord's Prayer which is now translated into most of the languages of the world. He also taught the disciples that God, his Father, is not only the Lord God Almighty, He is also a loving Father. He taught them to pray to God as Abba – father – the equivalent of our word Daddy.

What better way to start our holidays – our time out – by saying quietly the Lord's Prayer?

Molly Poulter

Music Notes, August 2013

None of the major music groups in the area is publicising a concert in August – local music-makers obviously go on holiday at this time, and have a break from practicing. There may be some local musical events, so look out for them. I would take the opportunity to remind organisers of charity and fund-raising concerts that publicity needs to be put out well in advance. I am always willing to consider such events for my monthly selection, but often I do not find out about them in time to meet the print deadline for parish and village magazines.

If you would like to book a last minute musical holiday, I note that there is an international music festival in the Lake district, from 3rd-17th August - call 08456 442144 for details and another at Machynlleth from 18th-25th August – tel 01634 703355. Both offer a splendid selection of quality music. There are of course plenty of musical events at the Edinburgh Festival,, which runs from 9th August- 1st September.

Finally, may I remind you that "The proms" are now in full swing. Check your radio 3 programme daily. Prom 33 (Beethoven 8th August), prom 34 (Vivaldi's Four Seasons, 23rd August) and prom 36 (Bach, 16th August) are on TV, BBC4.
