

Beware of telephone scams

We are aware that criminals are trying to exploit the national coronavirus crisis and take advantage of innocent people.

Fraudsters pretending to be from the police or your bank are targeting elderly and vulnerable people to try and steal money from their accounts. The callers will often seem genuine, offering you the opportunity to call them back to prove their identity.

They establish their trust with you by confirming some of your personal details and will then make up a story in which money in your bank account needs to be transferred or withdrawn.

The police or your bank will never:

- Contact you out of the blue and ask for your personal details, including your PIN number, password or account details.
- Ask you to transfer money into another account for fraud reasons.
- Ask you to withdraw cash and hand to someone for safe keeping.
- Send someone to your home to collect cash, bank cards, account details or PIN numbers.

Protect yourself

- If you are unsure whether someone on the phone is genuine, hang up and then use a different line to call the organisation they are purporting to be from using a number from the phonebook or internet to verify their identity.
- Don't give out your personal information to anyone over the phone, including your PIN number and bank account or card details.
- If you have given out your personal banking details to someone over the phone or have given someone your card details, contact your bank immediately to cancel your card.
