Editorial

On behalf of the Buy the Bell group thanks to everybody who turned up at such short notice on Wednesday for the EADT photoshoot. It was lovely to see so many. At the time of writing we still have the launch of the share offer etc to come but hopefully that will be equally well attended – report next month. Congratulations Jenny and Chris for the summer boules win and Gina and I went to Saxmundham Ex-Servicemen's club for a charity crib drive and came away winners! This is Gina's second crib drive win this summer having won our own Middleton drive with Colin. Perhaps we can win the league again next season – who knows?

Lots to look forward to again this month with the annual fete and all the music events at the Bell.

At the time of compiling this I heard of the large wildfire on Dunwich Heath with 14 appliances in attendance! A very worrying time for us all with everywhere so tinder dry.

Contributions for the next issue can be emailed to barbara.barker.t21@btinternet.com or dropped in to 6 Meadowview, Rectory Road by Tuesday 25th August please.

Middleton First Aid Training

It was great to have a group of Middleton residents take up the opportunity to learn Emergency First Aid with DAC Education.

We learnt how to deal with a wide variety of issues and possible emergencies that we feel confident, but hope we will not need to use.

To impart some of this knowledge:

You can text the Emergency services in the UK by pre-registering.

Text the word register to 999. Read the reply message you receive. Reply with yes to complete setup.

This can help if you are hard of hearing or in a busy, noisy place or need to keep call quiet.

What3words /// is a life saver as it identifies your exact position. It is also used by Emergency services.

CPR is 30 chest compressions : 2 breaths

We also remembered: "If they're pale, lift the tail, If they're red, lift the head"

Thank you to the MCC and Parish Council for enabling this vital resource.

Look out for our campaign to purchase a Public Access Defibrillator (PAD) for the Recreation Ground and surrounding residents.

Anyone for cribbage?

Middleton Bell has a cribbage team playing in the local league – with varying success! We won the league in 2025 but promptly won the wooden spoon (which is proudly displayed in the restaurant) in 2026! But we all enjoy playing. The league starts again on 8th September but we will have 2 pre-season get togethers (called a shuffle I guess?) on Tues. 11th August 7pm in the Bell, and Tues. 25th August, if regular players would like to attend and any newcomers to the village who would like to join us will be very welcome. Hope to see you at one (or both). (Two dates in case folk are away on holiday .)

P.S. if you just want a social game and not play in the league that's absolutely fine too.

Church Services during August

Sunday 23 August 11am Holy Communion

The Benefice Services this month will take place at 10am on Sunday 2 August at St James', Dunwich

A little more about Forest Church for the curious...

Many people find that their most profoundly spiritual moments happen when they are outdoors, in nature. So, Forest Church is a fresh expression of church drawing on much older traditions, such as the Celtic and Franciscan, when sacred places and practices were predominantly outside. However, it is also tapping into contemporary research which highlights the benefits of spending time outdoors and in wild places.

Forest Church isn't just normal church happening outside; instead, it aims to pay attention to Nature and participate with Creation. In the words of St Francis and St Augustine, it is to listen to the First Book of God. So please join us on Sunday 16 August at 11am as we try this out together and bring with you your curiosity and a desire to connect with nature.

We plan to meet in the Churchyard at Holy Trinity and then walk along The Causeway to finish our shared time together at Marsh Acres.

Thought for the Month

The small town of Terrasse-Vaudreuil in Quebec, Canada, unanimously adopted a landmark resolution on 9 June 2026 to recognize trees as living beings with the rights to life, natural growth, integrity, and regeneration.

LIVING WELL with ALZHEIMER'S

On Sunday 5th July Holy Trinity hosted a very interesting and inspiring talk by Peter Berry & Deb Bunt.

Peter was diagnosed with early onset young dementia at the age of 50 having run the family timber merchant and tree surgery business after his father retired. Peter took us through his journey from being given the diagnosis with a leaflet to read and no further help, to a year of emptiness, then a light bulb moment deciding to do something positive and raise money and attention to Alzheimer's in the younger individual. A chance meeting with Deb Bunt, a fellow cyclist, has enabled Peter to spread the word and with the support of Teresa his wife he has given many talks here and abroad.

All attending went away with a feeling of admiration for Peter's approach to his condition and more knowledge of how important support by those around you is - in his words 'Life with dementia isn't over - it's just a little different'

His next talk is on at 6pm on 19 September at St John's Church. Saxmundham.

A HUGE thank you to everyone who came along to Tuesday's Community Meeting (all 102+ of you!) to find out the latest news on the B1125 Action Group's campaign - your presence was genuinely heart-warming and a great reminder just how passionately everyone cares about what is happening to our rural road at the moment.

The most important outcome from the last 10-months campaigning (to hold SZC, SCC Highways & the Police to account for their responsibilities in ensuring this is a safe road for all users & enabling rural community lives to continue without fear) is that our MP, Jenny Riddell-Carpenter's office is taking this campaign forward for us.

The following is the letter which will now be sent out to all Middleton, Westleton, Darsham, Dunwich, Walberswick & Blythburgh residents.

PLEASE, PLEASE, PLEASE - add your name on the campaign's app (using the QR code or weblink on the letter) to support Jenny's parliamentary (now ministerial!) voice on our behalf in forcing the responsible parties to act. Don't forget, those that sent in 'Statements' to the Action Group previously should copy & paste them into the app (optional personal message) too, it all gets recorded and makes it more meaningful.

WE NEED AS MANY PEOPLE AS POSSIBLE TO DO THIS because it is vital to bombard SCC's Cabinet Member for Transport & Highways! Please share with ALL friends, relatives etc etc - anyone you know or meet who cares about this beautiful Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty! Of course all members of a household can individually respond and we suggest they do - and anyone with a postcode outside this area can note in the comments that they use the road so their contribution still counts

As mentioned at the meeting, the aims of the B1125 Action Group have been fulfilled - our campaign is now in the hands of our MP - so its over to all of us to back her by adding individual names to her campaign. The b1125actiongroup email account will no longer be monitored.

THANK YOU again for all your support.

Dear Resident,

Join my campaign to call on Suffolk County Council to take action on the B1125 Rat Run

I am writing because I know how concerned many people living along and around the B1125 have become about the road increasingly being used as a rat run.

I know that all too often, local people feel their experiences are dismissed as anecdotal because there is not enough official data. But residents should not have to spend their own time and money proving what they can see and experience every day.

Although the increase in traffic is due to the construction works at Sizewell C, it is the responsibility and duty of Suffolk County Council to ensure the safety of the road, and they remain the ultimate “gatekeeper” and hold the power to decide if they want to approve new road safety or road calming measures. That said, it will be the responsibility of Sizewell C to pay for improvements and traffic calming measures if they are shown to be responsible.

It is therefore vital that Suffolk County Council engage meaningfully with the B1125 community, help residents and parish councils monitor traffic properly and commit to acting on the evidence gathered.

That is why I have launched a new campaign calling on Suffolk County Council to work urgently with Sizewell C to:

- Meet regularly with residents and parish councils affected by the problem
- Deliver (without delay) effective monitoring of traffic volumes, vehicle types and speeds at locations agreed with the community
- Ensure the monitoring results and methodology are shared transparently with local communities and kept under regular review
- Establish a clear process for adopting measures such as lower speed limits, traffic calming, signage and enforcement

Measures could include lower speed limits, traffic calming, improved signage, better enforcement or other steps to discourage inappropriate through traffic. Any response must be developed with the communities directly affected.

Every person who joins the campaign will send an email directly to Councillor Chris Hudson, Suffolk County Council’s Cabinet Member for Transport and Highways. The more residents who take part, the harder it will be for these concerns to be ignored.

Together, we can send a clear message: Suffolk County Council must listen to the B1125 community, support proper monitoring and act on the evidence.

Yours sincerely,

Middleton Dark Skies

August Highlights

Perseid Meteor Shower Assuming clear skies, this year's display will be as good as it can get, as the moon will be well out of the way. The peak of the shower is on the night of the 12th /13th August, but the Perseids are visible from July 17th through to 24th August, although in lesser numbers the further away from the peak. The radiant of the shower, which is the point in the sky that the meteors appear to originate from, is located out to the NE, just below the constellation of Cassiopeia, which is easily recognisable, as it resembles a big, if slightly wonky, W. The meteors are pellets of dust left by the Comet Swift-Tuttle. They are visible as soon as it gets dark, so sitting out at around 9.30pm should allow your eyes to become accustomed to the approaching darkness ready for viewing from around 10 pm. Rates of 50 to 100 per hour can be expected after midnight as the radiant rises higher in the sky, but during late evening, expect to see between 10 to 20 per hour.

The Milky Way. While watching for the Perseid shower, it will be impossible to miss The Milky Way, arching across the night sky from the NE to the SW. Take a look through even a small pair of binoculars at any point along The Milky Way to witness thousands of stars.

Perseids Radiant

Like it says, Cygnus!

Planets on view. Venus is slowly disappearing into the evening twilight setting at around 9.30pm. Mars rises at around 1.30am, its almost ruby red colour being quite distinctive as it rises into the eastern sky. Jupiter rises at around 4.30am from the middle of the month into the eastern dawn sky. Saturn can be seen in the eastern sky moving up above the horizon at around 10pm.

The Moon goes by the name of Grain Moon or Red Moon, as it takes on a slightly red colour due to the summer haze filtering out the bluer wavelengths of the moonlight. Full moon occurs on the 28th and will be subject to a partial eclipse starting at 3.30am through to 7.00am, with a maximum of 93% of the moon eclipsed at 5.15 am Constellations. Not far from the radiant of the Perseids is the constellation of Cassiopeia, which is recognised by its distinctive W shape. The Milky Way passes through and along the length of the constellation, which is named after the vain Queen of Ethiopia, Cassiopeia, from Greek myth. Another relatively easy constellation to spot is Cygnus (The Swan) which at this time of the year is practically overhead. It's one of the few constellations that doesn't need too much imagination to see how it got its name, as being cross shaped lends itself to having the outstretched wings and neck of a swan in flight. (Cygnus is also referred to as The Northern Cross). As with Cassiopeia, The Milky Way passes along the length of Cygnus.

Solar Eclipse Although technically not a night sky object, it is worth noting that there is partial solar eclipse visible from the UK on the 12th of the month. Some 90% of the sun will be eclipsed, occurring at around 7.15pm although the event begins at 6.15pm and concludes at 8.05pm. To protect your eyes, never look at the sun with unprotected eyes and certainly never with a telescope or binoculars as this can blind you permanently.

August Nature Notes

Hawkmoths are a fascinating group of insects commonly encountered in gardens, particularly during the summer months. These moths take their name from their large size and remarkable agility in flight. The adults are often strikingly coloured, while their caterpillars have evolved impressive defence mechanisms to deter predators.

Hawkmoths belong to the family Sphingidae and are among the most colourful and conspicuous moths found in Britain. Excluding rare vagrants and accidental introductions, 18 species have been recorded in Britain. Nine of these are resident species, while the remaining nine are summer migrants. Migration from southern Europe can begin as early as February, with further waves of migrants arriving later in the year during prolonged periods of warm, settled weather. This year has proved to be an excellent one for migrant hawkmoths, with unusually high numbers being recorded across much of southern Britain.

Like all moths and butterflies, hawkmoths undergo a four-stage life cycle: egg, larva (caterpillar), pupa and adult. Eggs are laid singly on the underside of leaves or on the buds of their food plants, where they are well concealed. After hatching, the caterpillar passes through five growth stages, or instars, increasing in size after each moult. Many species have a distinctive hooked tail horn, and some adopt a snake-like posture when threatened, helping to deter potential predators. Once fully grown, the caterpillar moves to the ground to pupate. When development is complete, the adult moth emerges by splitting the hard pupal case before expanding and drying its wings ready for flight. While all hawkmoths feed as caterpillars, only some species feed as adults. Caterpillars are often encountered in gardens, particularly those of the Privet Hawkmoth, which feeds on privet and lilac, and the Elephant Hawkmoth, whose larvae are commonly found on willowherbs.

Many hawkmoth species can be observed during the day or at dusk. The Bee Hawkmoths and the Hummingbird Hawkmoth are active in daylight and are attracted to flowers with strong ultraviolet nectar guides. Honeysuckle, a favourite of the Elephant Hawkmoths and the Striped Hawkmoth, reflects large amounts of ultraviolet light, making it especially visible to moths at and just after dusk.

Adult Elephant, Poplar, Privet and Lime Hawkmoths are most active at dusk and can often be found resting on tree trunks during the day. Their distinctive caterpillars are regularly seen in gardens. The Hummingbird Hawkmoth is an immigrant species that arrives from southern Europe and North Africa. It is day flying and can often be seen hovering in front of flowers like a hummingbird while using its long proboscis to feed on nectar from deep tubular flowers such as honeysuckle, lavender and red valerian. Although many individuals breed successfully in Britain each summer, the species has traditionally been regarded as a migrant. However, milder winters and a warming climate mean it is now increasingly considered a potential resident in parts of southern Britain, including Suffolk, where breeding is becoming more regular.

MIDDLETON PAVILION GRAND OPENING

Our village fitness and play equipment was finally installed in May and we had a Village Grand Opening with a Social Sports Day.

Lots of fun for all! The pavilion is available to hire now – see the advert (right) for details.

It is always true that the support and camaraderie of the village is vital to any event, so thank you so much for your time, help and participation - I have had several comments on how enthused individuals are about the Recreation Ground changes as well as the enjoyment of the day's activities.

Best wishes

Could you include this message I was sent in the newsletter please? Thanks R

Irresponsible Dog Owner

Very recently I had the pleasure of enjoying your lovely village whilst staying at a local holiday let. Being a very keen runner I took full advantage of the wonderful Suffolk countryside and ran daily. On one occasion I had to abort my run and turn back as the footpath to Eastbridge alongside Minsmere New Cut was totally overgrown. So I headed back to Recreation ground to do a few laps of it to add some distance. After three laps I noticed a lady pull into the car park in a large black station wagon type vehicle. As I was about to set off on another lap she angrily said how many more times are you going to be running around as my dog will chase after you! Must admit I was taken aback as I would have thought a dog should be on a lead or its owner in total control. This apart from making sure any dog mess could be seen and action be taken to clean it up. I exited straight away via gate at top end of the playing field. Maybe comment could be made in the next Middleton Newsletter pointing out dog owner's responsibilities.

Happened Tuesday 21st July at approx. 0715 hrs.

This will be worth it if it saves someone from getting bitten or stepping in dog mess.

New Tactile Bin Stickers Available to Support Visually Impaired Residents

Hello

East Suffolk Council and the Suffolk Waste Partnership have consulted Suffolk Sight to design and develop a set of stickers for Better Recycling bins to help the visually-impaired distinguish different waste & recycling bins.

The stickers, that can be placed on each type of bin lid, are now available on request by contacting Customer Services at customerservices@eastsuffolk.gov.uk or by phone on 0333 016 2000

A sticker can be placed on each of your recycling and food bins to help you identify the type of bin and therefore what you can put in it.

On the top left-hand corner of each sticker is a raised yellow shape to feel and help you identify the waste type.

The sticker with the raised yellow circle should be placed on your new outdoor grey food container.

The sticker with the raised yellow square should be placed on your new green lidded bin for paper and card recycling.

The sticker with the raised yellow triangle should be placed on your blue lidded bin for all other recycling including tins, cartons, glass bottles and jars, cartons and plastic containers, trays and film.

If you are part of an organisation that has service clients, the Forum requests that you advise them of the availability of these bin stickers.
