Halam's 'Thousand Year Bell'

Photograph courtesy of Mrs B Godper (taken pre 1965)

There are two bells in the church tower; the largest was originally inscribed: "God save his church. W. Redman, 1722". This bell was cracked prior to 1965 when Taylor's of Loughborough rehung the bells and recast the 1722 bell. The inscription now reads, "Recast in 1965 in memory of Sir Stephen and Lady Gibson of Manor Farm, also in memory of George Gibson 1868-1961." The bell on the right in the photograph is Norman and is rather picturesquely called 'the bell of a thousand years'. In 1903 The Rev Canon Raven in 'Nottingham Notes & Queries' described it as "rather conical with flat edge, surmounted with six cannons forming a sort of crown, and is a regular petasus." Two narrow bands with ridges encircle it. It is said to be the Sanctus bell which has rung since Plantagenet times. The clock mechanism was attached to it prior to 1965, but now strikes on the 1722 bell. The bells originally hung on wooden beams replaced by steel girders in 1965.

The following article, (provided by Tony Denyer), found in 'The Daily Mail' last year, posed this question and reply:

"Is the 1000 year old Norman Bell in the church of St Michael, Halam, near Southwell, the oldest in Britain?"

The oldest tower bell in Britain is one of 50kg at St Botolph, Hardham, West Sussex, still in use and dates from around 1100. The church of St Michael in Halam was completed in the 12th century so it is doubtful that its bell is older than that at St Botolph. Britain's oldest inscribed bell is the Gargate Bell at Caversfield Church, Oxfordshire, named in honour of Hugh and Sibilla Gargate and dating from 1219. A fragile hand bell known as the Iron Bell of St Patrick is dated AD450 and held in Dublin. But the oldest bell in the world is the tintinnabulum in the Babylonian palace of Nimrud, which dates from around 1100BC. The oldest known tower bell is one in Pisa, Italy, dated 1106."

Nature Notes

It is approaching that time of year again when our summer bird visitors are preparing to leave. I've not seen a Swift around recently and Swallows and House Martins seem to be congregating on the wires. This year we've heard more Turtle Doves around the village than ever before. Their constant "turr turr turr" sound has even become a bit monotonous at times, yet I was sad not to hear many in 2004! There have been reports of Spotted Flycatchers again this year in some gardens, flitting in & out to catch a fly in the air. Compared to the Common Whitethroat with its scratchy song, the Lesser Whitethroat is a bird that I always struggle to notice, but we've heard one this year on Gray Lane. These will all be leaving soon, but keep a look-out in autumn for the arrival of winter visitors including Fieldfare & Redwing – a sure sign winter is round the corner! - Elaine Gathercole

WEA Courses in Southwell

The WEA is running courses in Southwell starting on 19th September onwards on Art, Digital Photography, Birdwatching, Plants of the Empire, Bridge, Italian Courts and Archaeology. These generally consist of 6-10 meetings for about 2 hours in the daytime or evening each week and cost £20-50, with concessionary rates available. For more information pick up a leaflet in Southwell Library or telephone Mrs G Belton on 01636 830720.

Parish Paths Partnership Update

Letters have now gone out from the Parish Council to all those in Halam who are believed to have a path which crosses their land. These introduce the scheme & give the recipient the opportunity to undertake remedial works identified (if any) which can be funded by the scheme. If you believe you have a path on your land and have not received a letter please contact either Pat Rickett (813831) or me as I am helping administer this initiative. In the course of distributing these letters some farmers gave me examples of members of the public, including people from Halam, who are straying from the right of way onto private land. Please help the farming community by sticking to the right of way network and do not divert into other areas, whether they have crops in or not. Where rights of way pass through gardens or close to private houses please be especially careful to stick to the right of way and respect the privacy of the occupants as you pass by. - Elaine Gathercole (813760)

Present: S. Bust, A. Fraser (arrived 7.30), N. Armstrong, G. Herbert, A. Paris & I. Sharman; Apologies: D. Parrish
Local Beat Officer: PC Whyke, our Beat Officer based at Blidworth station, outlined the present police coverage of Halam & answered questions re general policing.

Parish Plan: Progress against plan reviewed; Agreed to set up a Parish Working Group to consider planning /development issues in Halam including village envelope; protecting village character; important open spaces in the village; sympathetic design of new building. Those interested in joining this group - contact the Clerk.

Building Better Communities funding may be available to fund a sign as costs are likely to be over £1,000. This may delay the project while the application is processed and would have to be part of a larger project, possibly including new village signs as well. It was agreed to investigate this funding opportunity further.

Evening Classes: Those interested - contact Di Parrish.

Road Markings: C.C. have written to inform the parish council that the 30mph speed limit is to be moved further up Halam Hill (to the Southwell side of the Old Vicarage). ### Village 'Tramp'

Over 50 people enjoyed the 1st Halam Tramp on Sunday 11th September in decent weather, which luckily had improved since the previous day! There were 2 walks - a long route taking about 2 hours which passed through New Hall Farm and the walkers were able to enjoy the magnificent views in the direction of Newark & Lincolnshire and a shorter route which kept closer to the village. Tea was served afterwards in the garden of The Manor House, which proved to be an enjoyable social event for all who came along. Two "treasure hunts" were held as part of the walk with Aurelia Welch winning the children's hunt and Elaine Gathercole the adults' hunt. Thanks go to all who helped organise the "Tramp", who baked cakes etc and who helped on the day. It's hoped to make the "Tramp" a regular event, so watch out for the next one!

The 'Adam & Eve' Window in Halam Church

Photograph courtesy of Andrew Paris

Nicholas Pevsner in his book 'The Buildings of England: Nottinghamshire' writes of Halam Church: "In the tracery lights of a north chancel window, four good complete 14th century figures: St Christopher, St Blaise, Adam naked and delving, Eve naked and spinning."

This window was recently carefully restored in The Barley Studios, York, reset, and rededicated at a service in June this year. It is one of the most complete pieces of mediaeval glass in Nottinghamshire, and is very beautiful. St Christopher, patron saint of travellers, carries the Christ child and holds a two-pronged spear with a fish speared on the end. He is in the panel above Adam who is digging with a spade. St Blaise, patron saint of wild animals, stands with a golden crosier in his hand; at his feet is a hog with a bone in its mouth. He was a bishop who was martyred in the 4th century. He is in the panel above Eve who holds a distaff and shuttle. On the outside of the church on this window are the carved heads of two laughing faces. It is really worth taking the time to go and look, as I can only reproduce this lovely photograph in black & white! More information about Halam Church windows can be found on the website:

Halam's Beat Manager

PC Lindsey Whyke, our Beat Manager based at Blidworth, raised the following points at the September Parish Council meeting:-

- 999 response to Halam would be covered from Southwell or Halam and should be prompt
- it helps the emergency services if house names are easily seen from the street
- if you return home to find a burglary, police should attend within 1 hour from being called
- do not allow 'knockers' or other casual vendors into your house – there is a danger of distraction burglaries
- police will only attend a sounding burglar alarm if there are signs of a break in
- 'voice dial-up' burglar alarms are highly recommended as they can contact you or neighbours by phone in event of being set off

She can and will deal with persistent parking problems in the village. These will be reported to her in future.

PC Whyke is available to give advice on police matters and security issues, nuisance, ongoing minor problems, crime prevention, Crime Stoppers and general police advice. She can be contacted on 0791 033 68 93 or 01909 500999 Ext. 3370. These numbers are not for urgent police matters – for urgent attention dial 999

Parish Pump

- Many, many thanks to those who helped with, attended and donated to Macmillan Cancer Relief's Coffee Morning that was held in the school hall in September. We raised £246. Thank you for supporting a worthy cause. - Margaret, Jane & Julie

Halam School Autumn Term News Report

Our new classroom is finally there and so is the new hall. All the children have enjoyed using the gym equipment that the PTA has helped to buy. All the children and staff have been working hard.

Here are some of the things we have been doing. In October we went to church to celebrate Harvest Festival. Lots of clubs have been running like drama and football. The team played and lost. Also a team from Upper Primary did the Lions Sponsored swim to raise money for community things.

We are trying to be a lot healthier. We have had a walk to school week and Wednesday is healthy snack day. The school has arranged a trip to Newstead Abbey for a Victorian Christmas. We are all having to dress as Victorian children which should be fun. We also have a school fair and play to look forward to.

Eleanor Winning Year 6 (Junior Reporter)

(Thank you to Alice Fraser who was last year's reporter and who has now moved on to the Minster School – The Ed.)

If you would like your children to come and sing there will be a rehearsal on Sunday 11 December at 2pm in Halam Church. It will be very informal. If there is enough interest this could be repeated at other key services during the year. - Karin Davis

Many thanks to our speaker, Bill Brown, and the talented apple pie bakers in the village. Without you and those who donated prizes, it wouldn't have been the success it was. Special mention should be made of the teenage volunteers who worked so hard on the night. Job well done! - Marina and Julie.

Parish Council Meeting: 10 November 2005

Present: S.Bust; A.Fraser; A.Paris, G.Herbert, D.Parrish, N. .Armstrong. I. Sharman did not attend (prejudicial interest)

Presentation of proposals for the new Village Hall:

The P.C. presented the proposal for a new village hall and the outcome of the feasibility study. There were questions from the public and a lengthy discussion took place. Further Open Meetings to present the proposal, & village consultation will take place before a village referendum.

Matters Arising: C.Cllr .Bruce Laughton informed the meeting of government proposals to amalgamate the Notts. Police Force with Derbyshire or East Midlands. There could be drawbacks, especially for rural areas like Halam. He suggested comments re this proposed merger should be directed to the district Chief Superintendent.

Parish Plan: Two volunteers have come forward so far to form a Parish Working Group (working under the P.C.) to consider planning/development issues in the village, including village envelope, protecting village character & important open spaces in the village, and sympathetic design of new building. Anyone else interested in joining this group should contact the Clerk. An initial meeting will be arranged at the next P.C. meeting.

Appointment of new Clerk: No-one has come forward as a possible new clerk; Mandy Rickett has indicated a willingness to replace Pat. This position is a salaried post; those interested should contact Chairman Simon Bust.

Harvest Supper: The evening was most successful and, although not a fund-raising event, raised just over £270. Many thanks to Julie Paris, Marina Thompson and all those who helped with the evening.

Trafalgar Weekend: The bonfire evening was thoroughly enjoyable and went very well. Many thanks to everyone who helped to make this event successful. The special Trafalgar service on Sunday 23rd in Halam Church was well-attended and canapés and wine after the service were much appreciated. Thanks to those who helped organise the service and refreshments.

State of the Roads: The bank on Holme Road has been shored up – more permanent work is to be carried out. A meeting with Highways is still to be arranged. Gray Lane is to be re-chipped in the near future. It was agreed to ask the clerk to contact Highways to progress gating of The Turnpike especially at the 'accident blackspot' on the approach from Edingley.

Local Development Framework - Submisson

Statement of Community Involvement: Notes made by Andrew Paris were reviewed and amended. The clerk will submit the amended comments to the District Council

Kids Club: This will now operate from school. Agreed to give more time for repayment of monies outstanding and allow temporary storage of equipment in hall.

Open Meeting: Issues raised: a request for the accounts for the village hall lettings for the last five years; school lettings policy being reviewed in light of the Kids Club move; school hall will not be available for lettings during school hours; Edingley bonfire – there is a wish to move the bonfire event back to Halam

Correspondence: 1. Letter from Mrs G Starkey re right to roam land. Agreed to tell her to express her views through Halam News. 2. Greenwood Tree Planting Grants – no parish land and Highways problems with roadside planting. No action at this stage.

Planning Decisions: 1. The Old Barn, The Turnpike – proposed garage, conversion of existing garage with extension of existing house: application withdrawn. 2. Littledale, Mansfield Road - Retention of buildings in paddock & play equipment: application withdrawn

Finance: Resolved to pay:- 1) village hall cleaners, and 2) £35 for Trafalgar bonfire fireworks

Date of Next Parish Council Meetings:- Thursday 15 December at 7.30pm - Please note that this is a week later than originally scheduled.

Southwell Junior Choral

Following the success of the Primary Schools workshop in the Southwell Festival, Southwell Choral Society has formed a choir for Junior School pupils from Years 4 - 6. It will rehearse on Monday evenings from 6.30 - 7.15 p.m. at the Minster School, Nottingham Road.

Numbers are limited to ensure quality and commitment. The choir will develop its own programme and repertoire but will perform in at least one of the Choral Society's concerts each year. There is a termly subscription of £5.

The choir is led by Nick Thorpe, conductor of Southwell Choral Society, assisted by Vicky Thorpe, music teacher at Norwell School, and members of the Choral Society.

After successful introductory sessions 31 children from seven schools have been offered places in the choir. There are places for up to nine more children. If your child loves to sing bring them along on Monday evenings! For further details contact Karin Davis (815854), or full details can be found on the Southwell Choral Society website:

Realising an Education Dream in Southwell

It has been a long held dream for all involved with The Minster School, to have a single site school with state of the art facilities. That dream is just about to become a reality, as work will start in January 2006, to build a new and exciting educational establishment on the Nottingham Road site.

The innovative design for the new school takes cues from Southwell Minster and will provide sophisticated and flexible educational accommodation as well as significant opportunities for community usage. In keeping with the Minster Schools specialist status in Music and Humanities, these include a recital room, 150 seat theatre, and 500 seat hall along with indoor and outdoor (all weather) sports facilities. The new school will be built at the rear of the current Nottingham Road buildings, so keeping the disruption to the education of our students to a minimum.

The Minster School is very grateful to have received significant funding to realise its dream. This funding has come from: Central Government (£30,930,000), Nottinghamshire LEA (£1,000,000) and the Diocese of Southwell (£50,000). On top of this, the School itself must raise £450,000. Two thirds of this (£300k) will come from the Governors capital budget, which leaves £150k to be obtained by way of fund raising, through a concerted effort from the School, the Governors and the Parents working together. A fund raising team has been created (though more volunteers are always welcome!) and plans are being drawn up to appeal to all sections of the school, local and business communities. Contact Details: www.minster.notts.sch.uk or Tel: 01636 814000.

Education in 19th Century Halam

The earliest reference to a school in Halam is in White's 1844 Directory which mentions a church Sunday school under the care of the Rev. Charles Taylor. In 1854 the directory named Sarah Wright as the schoolmistress. By 1864 White's Directory refers to a 'small day & Sunday School' which Sir Richard Sutton of Norwood had converted from a barn in 1854 and which was under the care of Reverend Tatham. By this time Miss V. Leach was the schoolmistress. In those days a schoolmistress had to leave her post if she married. The barn which was the first school is now part of the property of Hill Farm and stands on what is now School Lane, near to the main crossroads in the village and opposite the School House which was built in 1886 by L.R. Starkey of Norwood. Subjects taught were reading, writing, arithmetic, geography history and needlework. Religious and moral instruction was supervised by the vicar.

In 1886 this first school was exchanged by L.R. Starkey for the present school which was new-built and had a playground and adjoining house for the schoolmistress, at that time Miss Sarah Bradley. The new school measuring 30 ft by 18 ft could accommodate 70 children.

It was officially opened on 7 June 1886. The piece of land it stands on was formerly the site of 5 Poor Houses. The school field was formerly the area known as the Pinfold where stray animals were held. L.R. Starkey bought this land at an auction held at The Plough for £50 in 1885. Problems were mainly to do with absenteeism and these give an insight into the working life of the village. School holidays were connected with agriculture, especially haymaking and harvest. In September the school closed so everyone could go blackberry picking! Free education did not exist in Halam until 4 September 1891. Prior to this school fees of 3d. and 2d. were collected by Mr Blundell, who was also the attendance officer. Miss Bradley retired 3 June 1890. Mrs E Singleton, Miss A Bradshaw and Mrs M Pippard succeeded her in the 1890's. A school log book dating from 1875 details the full part which the school played in all village activities. (Information is taken from Mrs Coulthard's book about Halam.)

Neighbourhood Watch

The parish-wide Neighbourhood Watch scheme has now been up and running for several weeks. The village is divided into sections, each one an individual group with its own coordinator – alerts circulate within groups through email and ‘round-robin’ phone calls. Every household which indicated a wish to be included has been issued with a yellow Neighbourhood Watch folder which includes details of how alerts will be received and, where appropriate, passed to the next member of the group.

Some reminders...

Coordinators – please let me know of any changes within your group, e.g. new people moved in, changes of telephone numbers/email etc.

Householders – please let your coordinator know of any changes in contact details

All – please pass on all messages promptly: the system will work only if everyone plays their part

If you have not received a yellow Neighbourhood Watch folder and wish to be included in the scheme, or if you are not getting alerts, or wish to receive your alerts via email, please contact David Stubbs, or Andrew Paris (815844) - halamwatch@yahoo.co.uk

The web shops offer the same prices as shopping directly with the merchant, with some stores having web-only offers and other deals such as free delivery. This means shopping online can be secure, quick and hassle free. Think of all the Christmas shopping on the horizon....

Dog Poisoned

There has been a very unpleasant incident at the Waggon & Horses. Will's dog was very recently poisoned with rat bait. Fortunately the dog was found in time and taken to the vet and will most likely recover. If anyone knows anything about this or saw anything suspicious could you please let him know. It is possible that this was an accident but all animal owners should keep a careful watch on their pets. – The Ed.

'The Right to Roam'

Just a reminder that no land in or around Halam is covered by the Open Access Legislation. Also I am sure that dog owners are aware that their animals must be kept on leads when walking near livestock. Thank you for your cooperation. - Gillian Starkey
