APPENDIX A

AAPC Chairman's Report: Bulbery Community Pavilion

Cllrs, CLT and members of FOTAS,

As most of you are aware we have received the planning permission for the new community pavilion to replace the current sports pavilion. This is great outcome, and whilst there is still some way to go before we can begin demolition and the new build you may wish to just pause and reflect on the journey so far. This has been a bottom-up community driven initiative that has taken nearly 15 years to come to fruition and everyone involved should be rightly proud of their contributions.

I met with the architect last week to discuss a number of internal planning issues we need to address:

Should Cost Model. The architect recommends we engage a QS to provide us with an updated 'should cost model' in light of the very high levels of sector inflation in the construction industry. The cost will be in the region of £1500, but I believe at this stage it is price worth paying.

Budget. Our total budget is pending confirmation of the TVBC CDF bid, in which we are seeking an additional £150k. If successful, the project budget will be uplifted to £675k. The architect's opinion is that in the current climate we would be wise to plan on a total budgetary cost of £750 to £800K. I will engage with the Parish Clerk, and we will amend the cost projections on the TVBC CDF application. We will also need to look at the potential S.106 allocation from the CLT project to see if the allocation can be increased (the current planning figure was set circa 5-years ago). The other mitigating factor is that elements of the new community pavilion can be categorised as a 'modular build,' thus we can do them as and when we able to do so, in particular the internal layout and fixtures and fittings.

Approvals. The approved plans do not meet our desired user concept. The plans include numerous changing facilities designed to support two football pitches; we are obligated to retain the pitches and therefore the Planning Authority expect a certain number of changing facilities. I believe the way forward is simple: Table 1 shows the approved design, Table 2 shows the area that could be formed from sliding doors and partitions, with changing rooms only being opened up as required for events. The current plans for separate shower areas can be addressed by creating wet rooms as opposed to separate WC and shower facilities. The effect would be to give us a much larger community space with greater utility, meeting the needs of a far wider range of community groups.

Critical dependencies. The critical dependency remains the delivery of the CLT project, which currently unlocks circa £400k of funding. It is essential therefore that AAPC's support for the CLT remain unwavering.

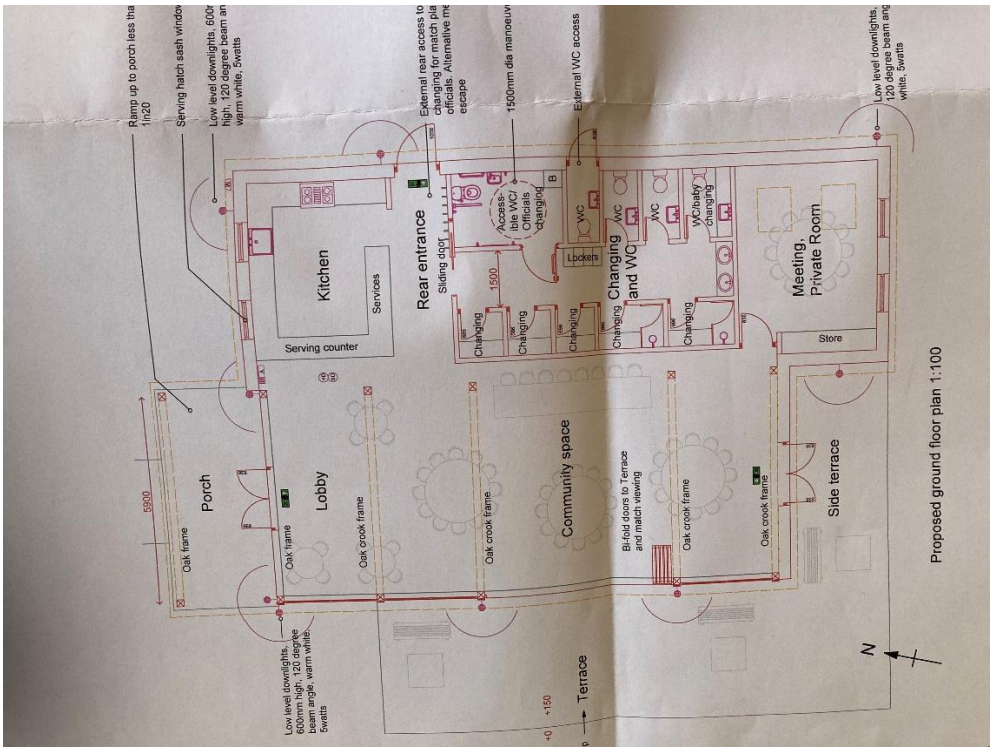

Table 1 – Approved Design

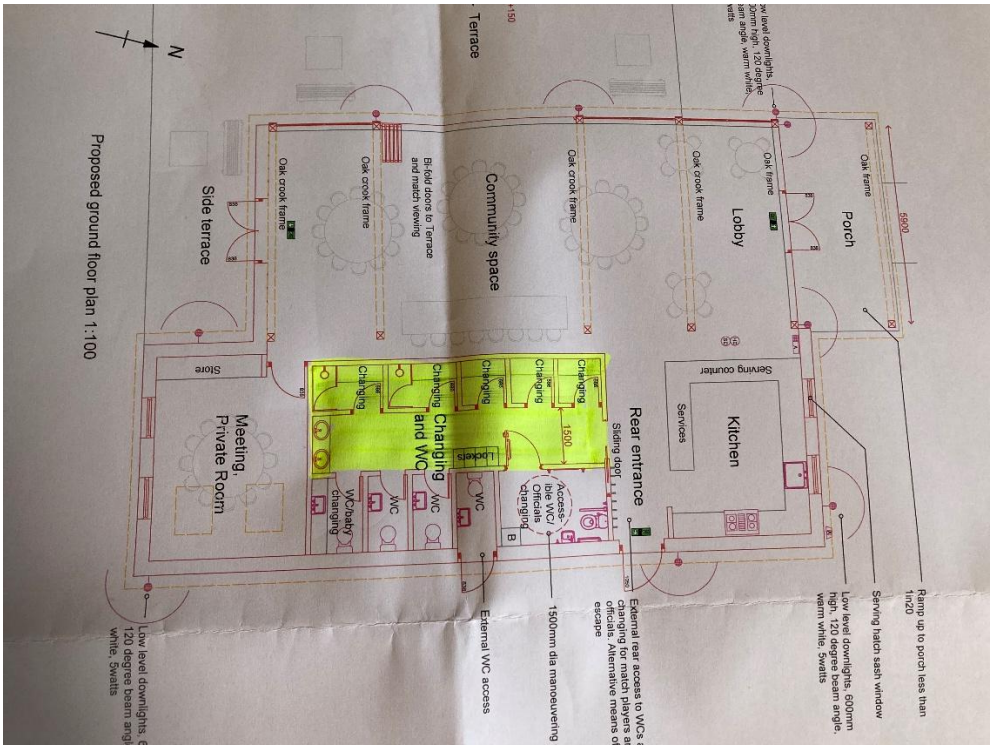

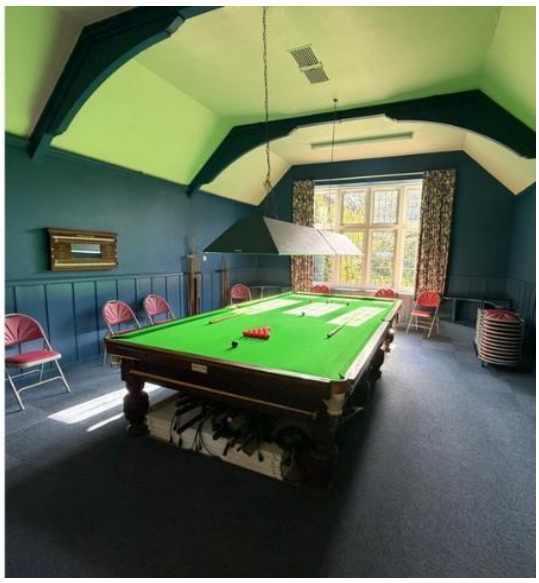

Table 2 – Highlighted area to be created from sliding doors as required.

Next Steps. Once the outcome of the CDF application is known we can determine the way forward. First and foremost, we will need to instruct the architect to prepare all the technical drawings to support a Tender process. We also need to identify any early enabling works that can be undertaken and any early wins in respect of community use of the site. We have already delivered the children's play area, purchased new goals for the football pitches, fenced off the car park and improved public accessibility by removing the permanent need to lock the car park entry gate. We are highly likely to receive a request to support the installation of a single 3G cricket wicket and practice net. There is a growing number of people who want to form a cricket team to play on a Sunday in the local 'friendly' league (circa 15 clubs). There is no need for sight screens, just a usable wicket and boundary rope. This will be a matter for Cllrs to debate should an application appear, but the provision of another sporting facility for a very broad ranged demographic in the community is perhaps what this entire project is about.

Goodworth Clatford Village Club reopens after major refurbishment

We attended the opening of the Goodworth Clatford Village Club following the completion of a major refurbishment project supported by a £70,699 award from Test Valley Borough Council's Community Delivery Fund.

The investment funded new windows and external doors, alongside a full interior refurbishment, creating a warmer, safer and more welcoming space for the community. The project was developed in response to strong local support, with 180 responses received from 332 households.

To mark the completion of the works, the club welcomed councillors, alongside contractors, volunteers and everyone involved in bringing the project to life.

The refreshed venue will continue to host a wide range of activities, including clubs, classes, celebrations and community gatherings, while helping to secure the club's long-term future at the heart of village life.

Council tax refund scam warning

Some residents have received scam emails claiming their council tax account is in credit and inviting them to click a link to claim a refund.

Please be cautious of any unexpected emails about council tax refunds. If you receive one and are unsure whether it is genuine, do not click any links. Instead, delete the email and contact the council directly to check the status of your account.

Residents can contact our revenues team through the council website at www.testvalley.gov.uk/ContactRevenues or by using the contact details shown on their latest council tax bill. Verifying contact details independently is the safest way to protect yourself from scams.

Annual leaf clearance

The council's annual programmed leaf clearance operation will begin on Monday 26 October and is expected to take approximately eight weeks to complete. Teams will focus on locations that regularly experience significant leaf fall, while also responding to reports of excessive accumulations across the borough.

If you would like to report a significant build-up of leaves or require further information, please contact either of your Borough Councillors.

Local Government Reorganisation

During a briefing with the Local Government Minister about Local Government Reorganisation it was confirmed that a new unitary authority for our area will be established on 1st April 2029.

Shadow elections for the unitary authority will be held in May 2028, at the same time as the Mayoral election for Hampshire and the Isle of Wight. Test Valley Borough Council elections will still be held in May 2027 meaning that those councillors elected will serve for two years.

You will know TVBC was originally due to come to an end in 2028. However, the Government paused the process as a number of Judicial Reviews of the process had emerged. We are now expecting a formal decision to be taken in 3 to 4 months' time.

National Scheme of Delegation

The Northern Area Planning Committee met on Thursday, 29 October 2026. It was the last meeting before the National Scheme of Delegation came into force on 1 November 2026.

Both councillors and officers are now working through the implications and practicalities with Councillors no longer being able to call any applications to Committee. We are hoping to have more clarity in December.

Suffice to say, we will continue to represent your views to Planning officers. However, it will be even more important in the future for you to highlight any potentially contentious applications to us as soon as you pick them up and copy us in your objection letters.

Furthermore, Full Council agreed a motion at the last meeting expressing cross-party dissatisfaction and agreed to send a letter of protest to the Secretary of State for Housing, Communities and Local Government, warning that the rules reduce transparency and undermine local democratic scrutiny.

Update from Hampshire County Council – November 2026

Protecting what matters to you: Hampshire County Council invites views on options to help balance the budget

Hampshire residents are being invited to share their views on how the County Council can continue to balance its budget in 2027/28 while protecting essential services.

Residents are now being asked to provide their views on a range of options to help close the budget gap, including:

- continuing to deliver efficiencies and reviewing how services are delivered
- pressing the Government for additional funding and legislative change
- generating additional income
- introducing or increasing charges for some services
- reducing, stopping or delaying some services
- increasing council tax
- using one-off funding from reserves
- seeking Exceptional Financial Support from the Government

People can have their say between 2 November to 11:59pm on 13 December 2026. via the online response form on the consultation webpage: www.hants.gov.uk/budgetconsultation.

Hampshire County Council sets out scale of future financial challenge

Hampshire County Council has outlined the significant financial challenges it faces over the coming years as it plans ahead for budget setting in February 2027 and beyond

By March 2028, the County Council will have delivered £770 million of recurrent savings over twenty years whilst maintaining Council Tax rates at one of the lowest in the country and continuing to provide essential services that remain independently rated as high performing. Hampshire's Children's Services are rated Outstanding by Ofsted, Adult Social Care is rated Good by the Care Quality Commission, and the Government has given Hampshire an overall amber rating for local road maintenance, including a green rating for the condition of its roads. Hampshire's strong financial management has also been recognised through repeated independent reviews.

Every month, around 45 more older residents need our help paying for care after their own savings run out. More children and adults need increasingly complex support. These are essential responsibilities, and we cannot simply turn people away. The Government's increase in employers' National Insurance has added further costs for care providers, feeding through into the fees councils must pay.

On top of that, the Government's so-called Fair Funding changes will remove around £28 million from Hampshire's funding in 2027/28, widening the shortfall we must address. There is nothing fair about taking money away from Hampshire while the number of people needing our help continues to grow.

Hampshire residents face a further wait for Government decision on council reorganisation plans

Residents, businesses and public services across Hampshire and the Solent area face a further wait to learn what local government will look like in the future, following an announcement today by the Government

While the Minister for Local Government, Devolution and Growth, Jim McMahon has confirmed that councils will be reorganised in April 2029, with shadow council elections expected in 2028, no final decision has been made on the structure for Hampshire and the Solent area.

In September, the Government withdrew its original LGR decision for Hampshire and the Solent area which would have seen four new unitary councils created on the Hampshire mainland from April 2028, replacing the 14 current councils serving the area (Hampshire County Council, 11 district and borough councils and the two unitary councils of Southampton and Portsmouth).

All the previously submitted proposals to reorganise councils will now be reconsidered, with an initial decision expected before Christmas or early next year.

Hampshire County Council set to consider proposals to enable household recycling changes in line with Government standards
Proposals to help all Hampshire households recycle a wider range of household materials in future, including more types of plastic packaging, will be considered by Hampshire County Council on 2 November

The recommendations focus on the preparations needed now to ensure Hampshire is ready to meet new Government recycling requirements and make full use of the county's new £50 million Materials Recovery Facility in Eastleigh when it becomes operational in 2028. This includes providing clarity to all authorities in Hampshire so that they can make the necessary investment in collection service infrastructure such as vehicles and containers.

The report recommends that all district and borough councils across Hampshire must be ready to introduce a consistent recycling collection system from May 2028. Under this approach, paper and cardboard would be collected separately from other recyclable materials such as glass, plastics and metal packaging. This approach maximises the quality of recycling collected and supports more efficient processing of materials.

Using a consistent single approach across Hampshire would also avoid the additional costs and operational challenges associated with maintaining different recycling collection systems in different parts of the county.

The exact timetable for introducing any changes in each area would be confirmed through a detailed transition plan linked to the opening of the new Eastleigh facility.

Essential improvement works to temporarily close Casbrook (Bunny Lane) Household Waste Recycling Centre
Residents are being advised that Casbrook Household Waste Recycling Centre (HWRC) will temporarily close from Monday 12 October to reopen on Thursday 12 November while essential safety works are carried out

The work will involve replacing the existing tarmac surface beneath the site's waste containers with reinforced concrete to provide a durable solution that will ensure the continued safe operation of the HWRC for years to come. The current surface has been affected by the heavy vehicle movements associated with the day-to-day operation of the recycling centre and is now reaching the end of its useful life. Engineering assessments have concluded that this is needed to prevent ongoing deterioration, reduce future maintenance requirements, and support the safe operation of the facility.

The County Council's booking system will help manage demand during the closure period with booking slots at Casbrook HWRC over this period set to be removed in advance. Information about the closure will be shared on the HWRC booking page, and signage will be placed at the site entrance to advise that the facility is temporarily closed.

Connect to Work: an opportunity for Hampshire businesses to find local talent and build an inclusive workforce
Employers across Hampshire are being invited to work with Hampshire County Council's Connect to Work programme, which helps local businesses fill vacancies, retain valued employees, build a stronger, more inclusive workforce and access skilled local talent that may otherwise be overlooked

Part of a national initiative funded by Government and led locally by Hampshire County Council, Connect to Work is delivered in partnership with specialist employment support providers.

The programme aims to connect businesses with motivated local people who may face barriers to employment due to a health condition, disability or other challenges, and support them to move into and stay in meaningful work, providing ongoing help to both employers and employees once someone is in post.

Hampshire employers can find out more about the programme, and how it could support their workforce needs, including free recruitment and ongoing guidance on the Connect to Work Employers webpage.

Statutory consultation to be requested on future of The Clere School
Further discussions are due to take place about the future of The Clere School in north-west Hampshire

Following a formal request by the school's governing body, Hampshire County Council recently ran a non-statutory public consultation on a proposal to close the school from 31 August 2027. It follows a decline in pupil numbers with 241 children on roll at the start of this month, despite overall capacity for 725.

In the event of a closure, the County Council is proposing to give children at The Clere the option to transfer to The Hurst School in Tadley. Visit the County Council's website for full details of the proposal.

County Council backs biodiversity banking scheme to support nature recovery
Proposals agreed by Hampshire County Council are helping unlock new opportunities to support nature recovery across the county

The County Council has approved the principle of using suitable land it owns for habitat banks - areas managed to support nature recovery and enhance biodiversity. Habitat banks generate biodiversity units that developers can buy to help meet biodiversity requirements when they cannot achieve the necessary improvements on their own development sites. This generates income to support the long-term management of the land.

Individual future proposals for habitat banking will be considered on a case-by-case basis, with thorough land, environmental, operational and financial assessments carried out before any decisions are made.

Goodworth Clatford Village Club reopens following major community-led refurbishment
Goodworth Clatford Village Club welcomed residents, volunteers and project partners on Friday, 16 October to celebrate the completion of a major refurbishment project supported by a £70,699 award from Test Valley Borough Council's Community Delivery Fund.

The investment has funded the replacement of windows and external doors, alongside a refurbishment of the interior, helping to create a warmer, safer and more welcoming space for residents. The improvements were designed in response to strong community support, with 180 responses received from 332 households, demonstrating the importance of the club to village life.

The refurbished venue will continue to provide space for a wide range of activities, from a variety of classes and groups, community gatherings and celebrations, to clubs, snooker and social events. The improvements will also help strengthen the club's long-term sustainability, ensuring it remains a valued asset at the heart of the community for many years to come.

The project was supported through the council's Community Delivery Fund, which works alongside communities to help deliver projects that create lasting benefits, strengthen local resilience and support places that matter most to residents. Throughout the project, Test Valley Borough Council's community engagement officers worked closely with the club committee, helping develop the plans and supporting the project from concept through to completion.

£25,000 grant helps keep Broughton and Mottisfont on the move
A charity providing vital community transport in Broughton, Mottisfont and surrounding villages is celebrating the arrival of a new electric bus, supported by a £25,000 grant from Test Valley Borough Council.

Broughton and Mottisfont Community Bus received the funding through the council's Community Asset Fund to contribute towards the new vehicle. It replaces an ageing bus which had become increasingly unreliable and costly to maintain.

The entirely volunteer-run service helps local people travel to nearby towns for shopping, appointments and other everyday needs. It also helps people get out, meet others and stay connected in an area with limited alternative public transport.

The new electric bus will help secure the service for the future while reducing its environmental impact, supporting the community's wider focus on sustainability.

The community bus has been running since 1982 and provided more than 2,500 passenger journeys last year.

The new bus was celebrated at a Community Transport Week event attended by local residents and representatives from Test Valley Borough Council, Hampshire County Council and MP Caroline Nokes. The event also highlighted new community electric vehicle charging facilities in the village.

Local ward councillors Alison Johnston and Stewart MacDonald also attended the event.

Council calls for review of new planning delegation rules

Test Valley Borough Council has expressed serious concerns about changes to the way planning applications are decided under the government's National Scheme of Delegation (NSD), which came into effect on 31 October 2026. The council has warned that the new arrangements imposed on the authority will significantly reduce transparency and opportunities for councillors and their communities to actively participate in important planning decisions.

The NSD will change how planning applications are considered by councils across England. In many cases, applications that may previously have been referred to a planning committee for determination will instead be determined by planning officers under delegated powers.

Councillors at a meeting of Full Council on 14 October agreed to raise their concerns with the Secretary of State, warning that the changes will undermine confidence in local democratic decision-making.
