Grafty Gourmet

It's that time of year again and this very simple recipe makes a great starter for any Christmas Dinner. Happy Christmas

Smoked Salmon Rolls with Cream Cheese & Prawns

340g of smoked salmon

200g of cream cheese

200g of cooked prawns, chopped

A large handful of chopped dill

2 lemons, 1 zested and juiced, 1 cut into wedges to serve

1 x 60g bag rocket (to serve)

1. Place a piece of cling film on a work surface and layer the smoked salmon pieces on top to form a 30 x 27cm (12 x 11inch) rectangle. Make sure there are no gaps showing in the salmon layers.

2. In a bowl, stir the cream cheese until softened. Add the prawns, half the dill, lemon zest, half the lemon juice and a good grind of black pepper. Stir everything together well and taste, adding more dill, lemon or pepper as you like.

3. Spoon the cream cheese mixture over the smoked salmon, leaving 2.5cm (1inch) uncovered along one longer edge. Roll up, using the cling film to help you, starting from the covered longer edge. Smooth the uncovered salmon edge over the roll to seal. Then wrap it tightly in the cling film, twisting the ends closed, and chill overnight in the fridge.

4. Slice the roll into 12 pieces 2.5cm (1inch) wide (leave the cling film on when doing this, as it will help to hold the pieces together). Put two pieces on each plate, carefully remove the cling film and garnish with the remaining dill. Serve with some rocket, the remaining lemon juice and a lemon wedge.

Christmas Meal - On Saturday December 2nd we have booked tables at the Mundy Bois (Rose & Crown) at Egerton. We will be collecting at the pub at 12.00 for a 12.30 sit down time.

AGM & Talk on Hedge Laying - The full details about our programme for 2018 will be available on January 9th. This will be our first meeting in the new year. On that evening we will hold a short AGM followed by a talk from Phil Piddle on hedge laying.

Tip of the Month - It is a good time to reduce overgrown hedges to a more manageable size. Cut back the sides until the hedge is no more than 45-60cm wide at the top, tapering it so the bottom is wider. This shaping will protect the hedge from damage by heavy snowfalls. Pay attention to dead foliage on herbaceous perennials, and generally weed and tidy borders. The sooner this is done, the less work there will be left in the busy spring period. Hedgehogs like a heap of leaves to winter in, so leave the odd pile in an undisturbed corner of the garden.

The Seasons Greeting to all of our members and friends, and once again thanks to all those who made our 20th Anniversary year so special.

Recycle Bin (not the one in your garden)

The Recycle Bin is used by Windows computers to store deleted items. It temporarily stores files and folders before they are permanently deleted.

3 Interesting facts you may not know about deleting documents.

Fact 1 - When you delete documents in an application (like Word) they are not actually removed from your computer. They go into the Recycle Bin.

Fact 2 - Deleted items can be restored back to their original location. To do this:

- 1) Open the Recycle Bin located on the desktop, this will list all the items you have deleted (unless you have emptied the Recycle Bin, see fact 3).
- 2) Locate the file or folder you want to restore.
- 3) Select the item, then click on Restore.

Fact 3 – Removing the items from the Recycle Bin will permanently delete them. The quickest way to do this is to right-click on the icon on the desktop, in the menu you will see the option “Empty Recycle Bin”. There will be a prompt to check that you are aware that you are permanently removing files.

Alternatively, you can do this when you open the Recycle Bin, there is an option to “Empty Recycle Bin”.

Notes:

1. You can set your Recycle Bin to “Remove files immediately if deleted”. See settings in Recycle Bin properties. Beware this will mean that you will not be able to restore files yourself. They can be recovered by an IT expert, but that may cost you.
2. This does not include emails. To remove emails permanently, you need to delete them from the “Deleted Items” or “Trash” folder in your email application.

December Music notes

December means Christmas concerts everywhere – I can only pick out a few, and churches throughout the area will be holding carol services and Christingle services, some of them of a high musical standard, others – especially the Christingle events - set at a friendly, informal level that all the family can join in. These music services are advertised elsewhere in the magazine, I am sure. Do try to support your local events as well as aiming for one of the main concerts in December.

Here then is my short list (it's a bit heavy on the choral side, but most of the orchestras have given December a miss):

- Saturday 9th, 7.30pm at All Saints' Church, Maidstone (ME15 6YE), Maidstone Choral Union starts the Advent and Christmas music season with a concert that includes Saint-Saens Christmas Oratorio and Carols for audience. Tickets 01622 726193.
- Tuesday 12th & Wednesday 13th December 7.30pm for 7.45 at St. Martin's Church, Northumberland Rd., Shepway, ME15 7LP, the Maidstone Singers hold their Christmas Celebration. Tickets 01622 630016.
- Saturday 16th December 7.30pm at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Button Lane, Bearsted (MJE15 8NJ), Bearsted Choral Society celebrate "Christmas in Bearsted" with audience participation. Tickets 01634 666730
- Sunday 17th December 3.30pm at Mote Hall, Maidstone - join Maidstone Wind Symphony for a live performance of the soundtrack to The Snowman to accompany a screening of the film, with 2016 BBC Young Chorister of the Year Edward Hyde. This family-friendly concert also features music from Polar Express and Home Alone Christmas, plus festive favourites. Information tel 01622 366500

My TV selection can only be Carols from Kings. BBC 2 on Christmas Eve (time tbc). It will also be on radio 4 at 3.00pm on Christmas eve and radio 3 at 2.00pm on Christmas day

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Boughton Malherbe Parish Council is pleased to announce receipt of a donation from Quinn Estates Ltd in the sum of £100,000.

Quinn Estates Ltd is the developer of the Grafty Green Garden Centre Redevelopment site.

This donation is the sum of money initially set aside by Quinn Estates Ltd as part of its contribution towards what is known as a Section 106 Agreement with Maidstone Borough Council that would take effect if planning permission was granted for the development.

The original intent was for up to £50,000 to be contributed towards bringing fibre optic broadband to Grafty Green, and another £50,000 to the Parish Council for the benefit of the Parish.

It transpired that Openreach were planning to bring us Broadband for use by late 2017, and Quinn Estates Ltd did not need to contribute to this cost.

Therefore, it was agreed that we would have a separate agreement for the money to come directly to the Parish if planning permission was granted. As you may all know, planning permission was granted by Maidstone Borough Council.

Our wish is to consult with all parishioners and this is your opportunity to contribute.

We would like to receive your suggestions as to how we could best use the money to benefit the Parish. Please convey them to us by any of the following means before the 8th January 2018:

Email: boughtonmalherbepc@gmail.com

OR:

By cutting off the bottom of the page opposite, filling it in, and either leaving it in the village shop or handing it to any Parish councillor.

OR:

By post to Chris Hume, Clerk to BMPC, 18 St Lukes Avenue, Maidstone, ME14 5AN

We look forward to receiving your suggestions.

Please note that for many suggestions we will be dependant on others to help bring them to fruition, and this may not always be possible. Thank you for your co-operation, and we look forward to hearing from you

Boughton Malherbe Parish Council.

News from Helen Whately - Your MP

There's a rather odd mood in Parliament at the moment, but I'm getting on with the job and not letting that distract me. This autumn we've had good news on school funding and longer trains and challenging announcements on housing. It's been a busy time for me with lots going on locally, and new responsibilities nationally as Parliamentary Private Secretary to Justine Greening, Secretary of State of Education.

Ever since I was elected I've spoken out against development at Junction 8 and pushed for new housing to be supported by appropriate infrastructure. I have done everything I can to make the voice of local people heard in the planning process. I wrote to the Secretary of State for planning, Sajid Javid, before the plan was approved and asked him to look into it. This was my last chance to have a say and I'm glad I took it.

Mr Javid decided not to call in the Local Plan and it has now been approved. I am disappointed that he has not intervened to prevent development at Junction 8, but I remain adamant that any future building here must be at a size and design that will not harm Leeds Castle.

A few days after I wrote to him, Mr Javid announced changes to the way local authorities must calculate housing need. For Maidstone these changes could mean an increase from 883 to 1,236 more houses a year. I spoke to him immediately after he made this announcement to share my concern about the consequences of growth without the accompanying infrastructure needed.

The housing targets for Maidstone are already high and the local roads network is under enormous pressure, with congestion becoming the norm rather than the exception. Thousands more houses will see more cars on the road, more children needing places in school and more GPs and health facilities required to meet the vast increase in population.

We do desperately need affordable homes for the next generation. But new housing must be in the right places and accompanied by appropriate investment in infrastructure. One thing we need to seriously consider is whether we need a relief road south of Maidstone. Hundreds of people attended a recent public meeting to express their strong views on this subject, with the vast majority in support of a new road. While some people did raise concerns that a new road would bring more development or could be detrimental to Langley village, the general feeling was enough is enough.

People want action. That's what I've been hearing over the last two years as MP here. That's why I've frequently asked KCC what progress it's making and pushed MBC not to include new developments in the Local Plan unless it sorts out the roads at the same time. I welcome news that KCC is pushing ahead with detailed work on feasibility, impact and possible routes, which will lead to a consultation within the next 12 months.

There have clearly been disagreements between our local authorities, which have not helped progress. This can't continue. So Helen Grant and I have decided to host a meeting to work through the disagreements and make progress. This relief road has been talked about for decades, it's time for the talking to stop and the action to start.

Speaking of investment, I was delighted when Education Secretary Justine Greening announced £1.3 billion for schools. Local schools are getting a 6.4% funding boost – that's a total of £2.7 million more than they would have received under the old funding system. Every secondary school will receive at least £4,600 per pupil next year and £4,800 in 2019-20. High-needs funding for the most vulnerable children is also going up, and there's extra support for rural schools.

It will be up to Kent County Council to decide how much each school will get, but indicative figures published by the Department for Education show that Valley Park, for example, could be getting 7% more funding.

Finally some good news on trains. Smart ticketing will be rolled out across the network next year, bringing an end to annoying paper tickets and queuing at machines. And 68 extra carriages are being added to the busiest routes on the Southeastern network. Passengers on the Maidstone East line will get more modern air-conditioned carriages and some peak-time services will double in length, meaning more comfortable journeys.

As ever, if you have any concerns you would like to raise with me, a problem you'd like my help with, or anything you'd just like me to know about, please do contact me at the House of Commons or on helen.whately.mp@parliament.uk

Christmas trees 2017: a message from Revd John Huggins

Alison and Peter Howard, Nash's Farmhouse, run a scheme where you donate money for a Christmas tree of your choice and half the money comes back to charity, and half to your local church. Last year they raised a magnificent £11,460 (250 trees) for churches and charity. This year there will be available a reasonable number of the traditional Norwegian spruce, and the softer, slimmer blue tinge Serbian spruce. Please contact them for a tree from 4th November. This is a great chance for you to raise funds for your parish church and some deserving charities at the same time. You need to 'phone or email them to fix a time and date, preferably at weekends, to select prior to collection nearer Christmas. The trees stay in the ground until collected so they stay fresher for longer.

Christian Message December 2017

I greatly admire somebody called Paul Kirby. He used to be the head Hospital Chaplain for the East Kent Trust. When he retired he was threatening to write a book called, "B*gr off, I'm not religious!", reflecting the comment he often heard from patients when he approached them in hospital, slightly exaggerated, I suspect. (He doesn't seem to have written it yet, so don't add it to your Christmas present list...) But, as the Russian-American songwriter, Regina Spektor, says in one of her songs, "Nobody laughs at God in a hospital".

Since arriving in Len Valley, I've already had two very friendly people wish me well and add, "But I'm not religious". Well if religion is about nasty rules and a disapproving God, I'm not religious either.

But if spirituality is about knowing meaning in life, living life abundantly in its ups as well as its downs, joining communities with a God called, "Love" who loves the outcasts in society, and finding peace when all around is in turmoil, then I'm all for spirituality.

Using these words, church is about being spiritual, not religious. Christmas time is a perfect time to find a church and try it for yourself to find out.

Each of us needs to decide how we're going to approach this big festival. Is it going to be tinsel and lights and used-up credit cards? Or else: do we stare into the face of a baby born over 2,000 years ago and, in the wonder of the Christmas services, find the most awesome gift of all, the person about whom his mother said, "He has filled the hungry with good things but has sent the rich away empty"? Church is about being filled with good things! Come and join in- we'll miss you if you don't!

Coffee Morning – with a difference

For several years monthly coffee mornings have been held in Grafty Green village hall. Cakes and coffee have been offered free and any donations have been given to a Tearfund project to provide water and sanitation in rural Zambia. But what is Tearfund? It is an organisation which was founded in 1968 to help the poor in many countries. Since then these needs have grown alarmingly.

This Christmas we have decided to ask readers of the Malherbe Monthly to a special coffee morning to raise funds for the work of Tearfund whose projects are countless. Where there is a natural disaster they are there. A current example of this is flooding in India, Nepal and Bangladesh. Where there are refugees there is Tearfund. Myanmar is an example. Where there is fighting there is Tearfund. Young people grow up seeing people killed all around them. 16 year old Josephine saw many in her community in South Sudan killed. With her grandmother, 3 sisters and 4 brothers she escaped death by walking barefoot for 400km. She is now in Konyo Konyo camp which is home to about 2000 families who are surviving on food distributions from a Tearfund partner. 'It's the only help we have,' says Josephine. 'We thank God for the food distributions.'

This Christmas let's help Tearfund to help those who lack the basic necessities of life.

Hoping to see you in the village hall between 10am and noon on Wednesday December 13th.
