

Rural Task Force

It has been a challenging and busy couple of months for the RTF in fulfilling their rural responsibilities in addition to supporting the policing of the continuing Covid situation and the imminent change with Europe and the conditions this has created for Kent, particularly in the port areas.

A big focus for the team at the moment is Op Galileo with the hare coursing season at its peak leading into game poaching. The RTF have Court cases pending for poaching offences against some of Kent main hare coursing offenders.

RTF also recently secured a conviction at Medway Magistrates Court of a dog owner for 2 Livestock Attacks.

There has been a spate of horses being reported loose on the highway and on the on the 23 December two horses were hit by a car in the Ashford area. Unfortunately one of these horses had to be Put To Sleep. This is a prime example of the risk posed to the horses and motorists and why for the safety of all concerned horses will be seized by Kent Police if found straying on the highway. Horse owners need to be aware that there are costs associated to the return of a horse. I would urge that all those who have horses ensure that they are securely kept and that the perimeter of fields and stables are regularly checked with any gates padlocked.

I am sure most of us will be pleased to see the end of 2020 and are hoping for a better 2021. The RTF will be used to support other Tactical Command Police Units to support the County policing demands during the transition period as the UK leaves the European Union and this may have an effect on some of the specialised areas will deal with or factor in a time lag with officers responding to any enquiries. Hopefully the impact will be minimal.

Happy New Year to you all.

Here is a snapshot of the work carried out by the Rural Task Force over the last 8 weeks.

Rural Theft

Two chainsaws had been taken and were located by a grain store near the rear entrance to the yard, the area the vehicle was heard wheel spinning away from. It is believed the offender(s) put them there to pick up on the way out after attacking another barn.
