Where great minds drink alike...

What better excuse to leave the house than books and booze? Whether your drink of choice is a refined glass of wine, a wholesome cup of tea, or something in between, you are warmly invited to the very first gathering of the Coughton Boozy Book Club.

The plan: An informal bookish chinwag, literary gossip, and the sharing of reads we've loved (or dramatically hated).

If all goes well — and everyone behaves themselves — we'll meet every 6 weeks thereafter.

Who can come? Everyone! You do not have to be a Coughton villager. Friends, partners, neighbours, and reluctant readers bribed with alcohol are all welcome.
