From a Churchwarden (Vicar on Annual Leave)

These two remarkable images are included in a small exhibition of prints that we shall display in the chancel of our church during the weeks of Lent and leading up to Easter. Both these pictures divide into two scenes, an upper scene and a lower scene. The upper scenes are heavenly, elevated, gracious, out of this world. The lower scenes are troubling, full of gesture and human suffering.

In the print on the left an execution is taking place. The woman standing on the steps has just been stabbed with a sword. It is visible in her breast. The two men near her have her wrists tied separately with ropes. She is surrounded by soldiers and there is a crowd and some horses behind her. Helmeted soldiers on the right and left edges of the print are looking elsewhere perhaps for further orders or wanting to escape what has happened but most people in the scene have their eyes on this wounded woman. The young man with a basket and tools at the base of the steps is crouching and looking up at her. Only the dog is distinctively and perhaps instinctively looking across the scene at something other in the way that dogs do. He ignores the wounded woman waiting to die. In the print on the right the lower scene is full of gestures and anguish. A woman kneels in supplication, her right arm pointing to a boy who is suffering a convulsion, his muscles tightly stretched, his arms flaying and his mouth open. He is having an epileptic fit and is being supported by his father. His mother is praying for help from Jesus who is not prominent in the scene but is leaning forward, his hand on his heart, head bent forward, paying close attention to the suffering boy and his parents, listening to what they say. The disciples are all around pointing and gesticulating, the man sitting in the foreground has a book and some scrolls with him. Has his medical advice been superseded by the loving attention of Jesus?

Above, in the print on the left, angels are bringing garlands and flowers to St Justina of Padua (for that is who she is, killed on the order of a visiting Emperor for refusing to pray to the god Mars). Above are angels making music, a scene of gracious harmony while the Virgin Mary and St John intercede for all humanity before Jesus who holds a sceptre and a globe which signify his lordship over the world. The timelessness, the eternity of divine love is intersecting with the cruelty and waste of the world.

Above, in the print on the right, Jesus is transfigured, transformed so that 'his face shone as the sun and his clothes became white as the light'. He is rising from the ground, in a way that anticipates his resurrection and his ascension into heaven. And, at that moment of extraordinary change when the man they loved was recognised as divine, Peter, James and John, overwhelmed and shielding their eyes from his brilliance, see him greeted by the great prophets of the Old Testament, Moses and Elijah.

Heaven and earth come together in these prints, the spiritual and the physical are experienced together. Agostino Carracci (adapting in 1557 a painting by Veronese to create one of the greatest engravings of the early modern period) presents the martyrdom of St Justina in the context of transcendence and eternal love. Sir Nicholas Dorigny (engraving in 1705 after a painting by Raphael) merges events that follow each other in St Matthew's Gospel, chapter 17; so the healing of the epileptic boy is synchronised with the transfiguration. Both prints in very different ways allow us from our material, time-bound world to touch the eternal, outside time.

Recognition or even experience of the intersection between the spiritual and the mundane gives deeper meaning to our brief lives. In Four Quartets, Eliot writes:

*... to apprehend
The point of intersection of the timeless
With time, is an occupation for the saint.*

We can all give it a go. Come and see the prints in the flesh.
Enjoy the spring and have a happy Easter.

Robert Wilson

For thirty six years Marion, Waveney and Linda have been involved in the organisation of the Coffee Morning and Lunch, but they now feel the time is right for them to step down. They very much hope this does not mean that these events will come to an end, but new people are needed with fresh ideas and enthusiasm. It would be very sad to lose these important village events. If anyone is interested in taking this over or helping with these events, please contact one of us.

FRIENDS OF ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

We would like to invite you to join Friends of All Saints' Church Cuddesdon (FOASC).

FOASC has recently been set up to promote a sense of community and responsibility for our beautiful church. We wish to ensure that All Saints' remains a place to be enjoyed by, and at the heart of, the parish.

By becoming a Friend of All Saints' you will be invited to social events and receive regular updates on fund-raising and the work being undertaken.

There is no obligatory membership fee but all donations are gratefully received. Our first project is the lychgate, which is in urgent need of restoration.

If you would like to join Friends, please complete the white form in the Friends leaflet and post or hand deliver it to All Saints' Church. Leaflets can be found in the church and from any of the committee members listed below. Alternatively, contact us by email at treasurer.foasc@outlook.com

We do hope you will join us.

Cuddesdon & Denton Community Orchard

Thanks to the huge generosity of Richard and Susan Farrant we have been offered a fine plot of land to create a Community Orchard for the village.

This is an amazing opportunity and although the paperwork has yet to be finalised, we have been told to waste no time and get on with it.

So, the village Orchard Group, which has been leading this project, needs to hear from everyone in the village who would like to support this project, whether by helping physically in the field, by giving financial support, or even by just wishing us well.

A meeting will be held in the Village Hall on Thursday 14th March at 7.30pm to explain everything and answer questions.

If you would like to indicate your support before the meeting, and want to know more about the project, please drop a line to
Ron Stern at ron@thesterns.org.uk or call on 01865 872863

As you might imagine the issues raised with me week by week are many and varied. Many emails are campaign emails drafted by a particular lobby group for constituents across the county to send to their MP. However a good number of emails are from constituents who have a particular problem that they want to raise. Some of these I can help with others I have to steer elsewhere. Among the issues raised it is not infrequent for people to have concerns around NHS services, which is something that I can sometimes help with. Problems with accessing GPs are not uncommon nor are concerns with accessing NHS dentists.

I was therefore pleased to see recent Government announcements which I believe will help with both of these in due course. The Pharmacy First initiative is very welcome. This is an approach to make better use of the skills of pharmacists whereby they can offer treatment for some common health conditions themselves without the need to visit a GP or have a prescription. Pharmacists will be able to treat conditions including sinusitis, sore throat, earache, infected insect bite, impetigo, shingles, and uncomplicated urinary tract infections in women without the need for patients to see a GP or have a prescription. I have always felt that pharmacists have been undervalued and under used and so am delighted to see this avenue for treatment opening up.

I was also pleased to see the launch of the NHS Dental Recovery Plan. I know that it has not always been easy to access NHS dental services in the constituency and this plan seeks to encourage more dentists to offer treatment on the NHS. As always these things take time to roll out and I look forward to seeing this implemented locally with greater access to dental services available through the NHS.

Another common issue raised with me is the state of our roads. Towards the end of last year the Government announced substantial additional funding for resurfacing road. This money, £8.3 billion, is money redirected from the cancelled Phase 2 of HS2. Oxfordshire will get a total indicative additional funding allocation of £82,340,000. This will be spread over a period of time from 2023/24 to 2033/34, and in reality it will take that sort of time to plan for and resource the repairs needed. The money will be passed to local highways authorities to spend and in order to ensure transparency on the spending the local authorities are required to publish information on their websites on the spending. By mid-March we should see a summary of the plans for the next two years. I will be looking to see a fair allocation to rural areas where I believe the state of the roads is particularly poor and where public transport is most lacking.

As always I am interested to know the issues that concern constituents. The best way to contact me is via email: john.howell.mp@parliament.uk.

March

The month of March
 Has just blown in,
 To say that Spring
 Will soon begin.

March roars in like a lion,
 With a bluster and a slam!
 And tiptoes out gently
 Like a quiet little lamb.
